Hungary Decision Reversed

Victims of Purge Trial Now Undergo 'Rehabilitation'; Names Are Cleared

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungarian Communist chief, Matyas Rakosi, revealed today the victims of Hungary's most sensational purge trial of the Stalin era are now being "rehabilitated"—declared innocent.

He said the trial was based on faked evidence.

Rakosi announced Laszlo Rajk, the former foreign minister hanged in 1949 as a Titoist and traitor, was convicted on the basis of "provocative accusations" produced by a former Hungarian secret police chief who himself has since been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Rajk thus was declared guiltless, along with his seven codefendants. Four were executed and three sentenced to prison. The three are to be released.

Rakosi made his announcement in a speech in the town of Eger. It was published today in the Hungarian party newspapers, Szabad Nep, and excerpts were broadcast by the Budapest radio.

This reversal was accompanied by Rakosi's statement that a number of Hungarian Social Democrats, also convicted on trumped-up evidence, are being released.

Rajk is the second top Hungarian Communist to be restored to a position of respect in Red annals since the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party in Moscow in February, where the terror reign of Stalin himself was denounced. The other was Bela Kuhn, head of the short - lived Communist regime in Hungary in 1919. He was believed executed in Russia on Stalin's orders in the 1930s. Kuhn's name was cleared during the Moscow Congress.

Violent Storms Continue Their Assault Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent wind and snow storms, which struck crippling blows yesterday to northern sections of the Midwest, continued their assault today.

Many communities in four states —the Dakotas, Minnesota nd Wisconsin—were virtully paralyzed by the vigorous early spring storms.

The dust storms which smothered crops in the Great Plains abated. Strong winds which struck from northern Texas and eastern New Mexico to the Canadian border diminished from eastern Colorado and Kansas southward. However, there was considerable dust in the air in western Texas and parts of Oklahoma and Kansas.

Blizzardlike conditions were reported early today in the Dakotas with blowing snow. Winds ranged from 25 to 35 m.p.h. and gusts to 40 m.p.h. Temperatures dropped to far below freezing.

Other northern midwest states were dealt similar crippling blows. Schools in many rural areas and cities were closed. Highway travel was slowed with many roads blocked by fallen trees and utility poles. Air travel was curtailed.

Escapee From State Prison Is Captured

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dean Hancock, the convict who escaped from the state prison in a barrel last Tuesday was captured this morning by Kansas City police.

He was driving a stolen truck. Police who said no charges would be filed against him, are holding him for prison guards.

Hancock, serving a sentence for armed robbery from St. Louis, dumped soap out of a barrel, hid in the container and rode out of the prison in a truck.

Doctor's Day Observance Sponsored by Auxiliaries

Friday, March 30, is Doctor's Day and is observed nationally to honor members of the profession. The Doctor's Day observance is sponsored by the auxiliaries to the medical associations over the country. No one knows better the hours of work without rest, the anxiety for patients, and the many calls that come day and night for the doctors than the women in their lives, the wives, the widows, all of the women in their families.

The idea to honor doctors with a day set aside originated in Georgia in 1933 by an auxiliary member, Mrs. G. B. Almond of Winder. It was introduced to the Women's Auxiliary to the Southern Medical Association in 1934 and to the Woman's Auxiliary to the Southern Medical Association in 1935. Today it is observed by almost every state auxiliary in the nation.

Mrs. Almond introduced before the organization a resolution that was adopted in which a lasting tribute to be paid the doctors of Barrow County Medical Society. She named March 30, on which the famous Georgian, Dr. Crawford W. Long, first used ether anesthesia in surgery, to be adopted as Doctor's Day. The auxiliary mailed cards to the doctors and their wives and flowers were placed on the graves of the deceased doctors.

Each year the Pettis County Medical Auxiliary joins in the national observance and twice have received the national award for the observance.

This year attractive posters with a hat in the upper corner and a red carnation, the doctors' flower, in the lower corner and the words "Hats off to the doctors" may be seen in the windows of many of the downtown stores, Friday and throughout the week.

Tonight the annual dinner given by the auxiliary honoring the doctors will be held at the Sedalia Country Club.

Explosion Ruins Granary, Cuts Path of Damage

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A devastating explosion blasted a four-story granary into flaming rubble last night and cut a 10-block swath of damage through Philadelphia's busy 30th and Market Street section.

At least three persons were missing and believed dead. Four others were on the critical list.

Scores were treated for injuries, some of them late evening shoppers heading home at the time of the blast—8:10 p.m.

ot until the cold morning air cleared away the pall of black smoke was the extent of the destruction fully revealed. As far as the eye could see there were broken windows, smashed automobiles, scattered debris.

The scene of the explosion was two blocks west of the Schuylkill River that separates the downtown portion of the city from West Philadelphia.

Across the street from the blasted building—the milling plant of the Tidewater Mill and Elevator Co.—the new Philadelphia Bulletin four-story building took the full fury of the blast.

Windows were reduced to glass powder, ceilings fell, partitions were hammered out of shape and office furniture was overturned.

The force of the blast tore down communications lines on Market Street, knocked electric signs off buildings and showered the area with fragments of metal and wood.

Sought Father Seized

Lloyd Dicus Found In Neosho; Denies Knowing Location Of Wife, Other Baby

Bulletin

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — M. J. Cuppy, a brother-in-law to the missing Mrs. Gretta June Dicus today said she contacted him from Baton Rouge, La., and was planning to return immediately to Kansas City.

NEOSHO, Mo. (AP) — Lloyd A. Dicus, sought in the apparent slaying of his 3-year-old daughter, was taken into custody here today.

The 31-year-old Texas ex-convict, who had been working in a service station here for several days, was taken into custody by Chief of Police Walter Montgomery and officers of the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Chief Montgomery said Dicus readily admitted his identity.

Montgomery added that Dicus said he knew nothing about his daughter Shirley Ann, whose body was found under a pile of rocks in a wooded area south of Kansas City last Saturday.

A first degree murder charge was filed against Dicus yesterday at Kansas City in connection with that case.

Dicus also said he knew nothing of the whereabouts of his wife Mrs. Gretta June Dicus and her year-old daughter Mozelle, who are missing.

Officers here said they were trying to find a woman who was with Dicus.

Officers said Dicus was arrested on a tip that the ex-convict was working in Neosho. He used the name of Lloyd Howard.

Senators Call Officials for Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators called top government officials today for questioning about efforts by this country to curb its allies' trade with the Communists.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Foreign Aid Director John B. Hollister were called to a closed session of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

At earlier public hearings before the subcommittee, which is investigating East-West trade, all three refused to produce some requested information about a 1954 agreement to relax free world trade with Russia. They said they would supply such data only at a secret session, and that to do so publicly would violate a U.S. agreement with some of its allies.

All three officials have testified this country reluctantly agreed to some relaxation to prevent the whole voluntary system of restrictions on Iron Curtain trade from collapsing.

Hoover testified Monday that the Chinese Nationalists have been trading with Red China, while exchanging shots in the Formosa Straits. He said such trade amounts to "quite a number of millions of dollars' worth of goods every year.

Yesterday, however, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said he could find "no evidence of direct trade between Nationalist China and Red China." He said some such trade is carried on indirectly through Hong Kong, a British colony.

Mexican Ship Burns, Sinks; All Are Saved

Engine Room Blast Causes Blaze 60 Miles From Shore

PROGRESO, Mexico (AP) — Port officials said today all the passengers and crew aboard the Mexican motor vessel Matul had been rescued. The ship burned and sank in the Gulf of Campeche last night.

Joselin Heredia Cobas, a port authority official, said 21 passengers and a crew of 14 were rescued by the Mexicon coastguard boat Virgilio Uribie and an amphibian plane.

They were taken to Campeche on the west coast of the Yucatan Peninsula. Among them was the Matul's captain, Ignacio Ferrerira.

The 300-ton Matul sank late yesterday about 60 miles north-northwest of Campeche following a fire that started with an engine room explosion.

Adelphi College Is Evacuated After Threat

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP)—Students and faculty members have been evacuated from Adelphi College following a bomb threat contained in a letter whose writer expressed hate for Negroes.

Police search of the campus and its dozen buildings turned up no indication of a bomb.

Dormitories, classroom buildings and other campus structures were evacuated last night and the campus was sealed off by guards as the search was made.

Police Chief Stephen Vandewater said he assumed the anonymous threat was a "crank scare letter."

He said the student body of 3,600 is made up of "all races, colors and creeds" and there never has been "any tension on the campus or in the surrounding community."

He said all the students and faculty members will be back for "business as usual" when the spring vacation ends April 9.

The threat to "blow up" the coeducational Long Island college was contained in a special delivery letter which the president, Dr. Paul Dawson Eddy, opened at his home near the campus at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Smoking Trash Box Causes Excitement

Trash in a pasteboard box located in a cubbyhole in the Bothwell Barber Shop caught fire from some undetermined origin about 12:27 p.m. Thursday and created some excitement. Smoke from the fire drifted into a laundry chute of the hotel, spreading smoke to various floors.

Firemen, after considerable checking, found the smouldering box and carried it outside. Slight damage resulted from smoke.

Overrules NAACP Try To Remove State Suit Into Federal Cort

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Dist. Judge Coleman Lindsey today overruled an NAACP effort to remove into federal court a state suit seeking to oust the pro-integration organization under Louisiana's anti-Klan law.

A federal judge could overrule Lindsey.

Lindsey said that since the law had been amended in 1948-49, there was little jurisprudence on the subject and information was "sparse and inconclusive."

High school pickets paraded outside, carrying signs linking the handing out anti-AACP literature, as Louisiana opened the first effort in the South to block operations of the pro-integration group.

The segregated courtroom was full with 50 to 60 standing on the Negro side.

Senate-House Group Pushes Farm Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate and House conferees seeking agreement on an election-year farm bill turned today to provisions which would affect wheat and dairy farmers.

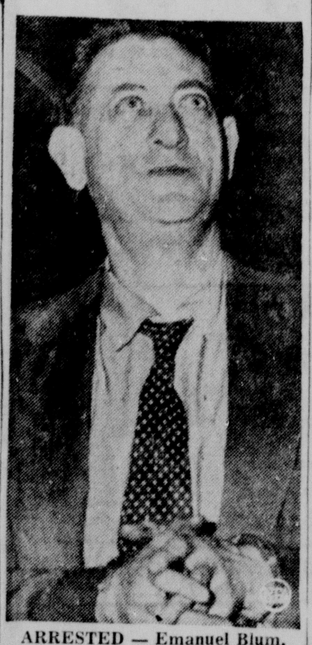

"We are about halfway through the bill," said Sen. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the conference group. "I hope we can stick to it until we get through, even if it keeps us here through Saturday night."

But Rep. Cooley (D-NC) said some of the House conferees have talked of a recess tomorrow until next Tuesday or Wednesday. Congress will be in recess until April 9, and no conference report can be acted upon before that time.

As the conference group moved into its fourth day of sessions, Ellender said the "biggest hump we still face is working out programs for corn and feed grains that will fit them in the bill." The Senate voted mandatory support levels for the feed grains—oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums—based on corn prices. The House bill includes no such provision.

But before tackling that, Ellender said the group hoped to clean up details affecting wheat and dairy farmers.

He said a "domestic parity" program for wheat, to start either next year or in 1958, had been accepted in principle although some details were unsettled.

Dairy Day Chairmen Hold Meeting

Reports Are Heard On Preparations By Committee Heads

A meeting of committee chairmen for the Dairy Festival, June 2, was held in the office of D. S. Lamm Tuesday evening. Lamm is general chairman while Paul Selken, who was also there, is chairman of June-Dairy Month.

Other chairmen or representatives of the committees present were Mrs. Shirley Wagner, ice cream social; Oscar DeWolf, parade; Matt Green and Henry Lamm, queen contest; Harry Naugel, display windows; Harry Brougher, ticket sales; Rex Phillips, restaurants; and Floyd Priddy, square dance. Also present were Opal O'Briant and Merle Vaughan from the Extension Office.

Mrs. Wagner reported that she was making arrangements to close Fourth Street between Ohio and Osage for the ice cream social. Cakes will again be received and dispensed from the Missouri Public Service building.

She named 12 different committees that she would need. They included one to receive cakes, one to rope off the serving area, one to provide adequate lighting, one to over see the ice cream, one to arrange for people to dip ice cream (last time a farmer and business man were teamed up on this), a table, chair and garbage disposal committee, one for cutting cakes, supplies, ticket takers, one for cleaning tables and seating customers (this was handled by 4-H'ers last time but it is hoped that Boy and Girl Scouts can be added this time) and one to provide racks to store the cakes until needed.

Mrs. Wagner said that 179 cakes were supplied last time and more would be needed this time. She asked for volunteers to solicit cakes from service clubs and Rex Phillips of the Bothwell Hotel offered to make the announcement to all the clubs at the weekly luncheon meetings.

Mrs. Wagner inquired as to what arrangements could be made in case of rain and Phillips again volunteered, this time to open all the dining rooms, the lobby and the mezzanine of the Bothwell Hotel.

Harry Brougher reported that 1,000 ice cream social tickets had been distributed to rural grade schools and high schools and 7,000 to Sedalia schools. The schools are being given the opportunity to sell up to May 1. On that date tickets will be called back and during May will be sold by 4-H'ers and Boy and Girl Scouts if they are interested.

Ticket sales have a money-making angle included in that for each four tickets sold a free one is given. The tickets sell for 25 cents. The town youngsters expect to wait until after Easter to start with Tuesday, April 4, as the kickoff day.

Harry Naugel is making arrangements for display windows. Storekeepers will tell him the space they have available. Similarly folks wanting window space will tell him on the application the amount of space needed. It will be his committee's job then to match needs with available windows. There were 21 windows in the previous event.

The square dance will be under the supervision of Cline Cain, Damon Hieronymus, Ralph Thomas, Charles Patterson, Ivan Berry and Floyd Priddy. It will be either at the high school cafeteria or convention hall and will be conducted similar to last year with free admission. There will again be a program. The crowd last year was es-

Finishes Money Split-Up

Only Some Minor Adjustments Remain In Allotting Bond Issue of 75 Million

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee worked overtime last night to finish its job of parceling out the money from Missouri's 75 million dollar building bond issue.

All that is left are some minor adjustments to correct an over-appropriation of $177,700. The last allotments were those for the universities and colleges and the state's hospitals.

Earlier, the committee and the full house had approved a total of $15,900,000 for the correctional department.

Last night, the committee settled for a $36,535,700 total for the universities and colleges and $22,742,000 for the hospitals. Rep. Joseph W. Martino (D) of St. Louis, appropriations chairman, said he thought the adjustments could be made in time to submit the figures to the House early next week.

Here are the changes approved for the hospitals today:

No. 1 at Fulton decreased from $2,450,000 to $2,126,000 with the announced plan of appropriating out of the state's general revenue to repair fire damage to the institution's administration building two weeks ago.

No. 2 at St. Joseph, reduced from $2,300,000 to $1,425,000, primarily by eliminating a $1,500,000 separate building for senile patients and making slight upward adjustments in other items.

No. 3 at Nevada, raised from $2,150,000 to $2,450,000.

No. 4 at Farmington, unchanged at $2 million.

St. Louis State Hospital, raised from $2,500,000 to a lump sum of $6 million, to allow for construction of a new clinic and administration building.

State School for Feeble-Minded, with branches in Marshall, Carrollton and Higginsville, reduced from $2,253,000 to $2,123,000.

St. Louis State Training School, raised from $1,500,000 to $1,690,000.

The State School for the Deaf at Fulton, described as in dire need by everyone who visited there, reduced slightly from the original request of $2,481,300 to $2,448,000.

State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, raised from $1,400,000 to $1,500,000.

State Cancer Hospital at Columbia, reduced from $60,000 to $55,000.

Federal Soldiers' Home at St. James, reduced from $19,000 to $175,000.

State School for the Blind at St. Louis, unchanged at $750,000.

Here are the changes the committee approved in university and college amounts:

University of Missouri at Columbia, raised from $16,050,000 to $17,618,700.

School of Mines and Metallurgy at Rolla, increased from $3,450,000 to $3,550,000.

Lincoln University at Jefferson City, raised from $1,050,000 to $2;747,000.

Northeast Missouri State College at Kirksville, raised from $2,440,000 to $2,540,000.

Northwest at Maryville, unchanged at $2,315,000 total, although some individual items were adjusted.

Central at Warrensburg, raised from $2,750,000 to $3,500,000.

Southwest at Cape Girardeau, raised from $2,737,700 to $2,785,000.

Southwest at Springfield, unchanged at $2,800,000 although slight adjustments were made in some items.

Martino said the two bills would be rewritten into one measure and could be ready for House debate by Tuesday of next week.

Earlier today the House approved a $15,900,000 bill for repairs and modernization in the correctional system. It will be passed formally by the House Monday and sent to the Senate, Martino said.

Voter Apathy Can Expect New Assault

WASHINGTON (AP)—Voter apathy fought with great success in 1952, is in for a new assault this year by the American Heritage Foundation.

The two major parties also will be trying to get out a big vote through organization and small-fund and absentee-vote drives.

The Heritage group, a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization with offices in New York, has enlisted the aid of 110 national organizations in a 1956 register-and-vote campaign that will extend even to such groups as hospital patients and the blind.

This is more than double the number of national groups the foundation coordinated in 1952 when more than 62 million voters went to the polls in the biggest election by far in American history. The AHF goal then was 63 million.

Of the total cast four years ago, 61,500,000 were valid votes for president. This was 11,700,000 more than the previous record in 1940 and constituted 63 per cent of the potential voting population.

The foundation says this compared with what it called the "disgraceful record" of 49.3 per cent in 1920, 53.4 per cent in 1940 and 51 per cent in 1948. But the 63 per cent still was considerably below records in other democracies, which the AHF listed as:

England, 83 per cent in a 1951 election; Canada, 75 per cent in 1949; Sweden, 80 per cent in 1951; Belgium, 90 per cent in 1950, and France, 75 per cent in 1945.

The foundation has not yet set a goal for 1956. But it goes without saying the group would like to better the 1952 record.

It attributed part of the 1952 success against apathy to a new strategy—making it socially desirable and psychologically satisfying to vote, rather than pointing the finger of scorn at non-voters.

Blonde Soccer Expert Turns Down Movies

ROME (AP) — Paola Bolognani, Italy's blonde soccer expert with the whistle-worthy figure, said today she has turned down a movie contract and a television job in America and just wants to get married.

Paola, 18, won the top prize last night on the five-million-lire ($8,300) Italian TV quiz program for her knowledge of Italy's favorite sport. She stumbled slightly on the final question, but got the money anyway.

Paola told reporters she had declined a "proposal from Rome to become a film star" and a TV offer from "an American agency whose name I don't remember." She added:

"All I want to do is finish high school and achieve my dream of love by marrying my fiance."

She didn't identify the lucky lad.

Paola's baby blue eyes and platinum blonde hair make her something of a rarity in this country of brunettes. She even pushed Italy's film queens off the picture pages as she zoomed up the ladder on the Leave It or Double It program.

She ran into her only difficulty on the last of the three final questions. She knew the whole 11-man lineup of Bologna's national championship team of 20 years ago, but couldn't remember one reserve player.

With the crowd in the Milan studio roaring for Paola to win, master of ceremonies Mike Bongiorno threw up his hands and said:

Begins to Fear for an Old Institution---Campaign Train

By RELMA MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—I am beginning to fear for one of the fine old fixtures of the American political scene, the candidate's campaign train.

Like the brass band and the torchlight parade, it may be on the way out.

The airplane and television have been muscling into the picture on a bigger scale every presidential year. You can reach a lot of voters in a very little time with them. They are slick and modern.

But for the reporter, covering a presidential campaign, the train has special advantages.

It gets you to the whistle-stops and the earnest little towns, lets you listen to people talking, and gives you the "feel" of the debate, as nothing else can do.

You practically live in the "work car" on the train.

This is a news room on wheels. The seats have been taken out, and long shelves for typewriters line both sides of the car. A public address system connects with the rear-car platform where the candidate does the talking.

The train may stop 8 or 10 times a day. In 1952, both Gen. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson were indefatigable campaigners who made a lot of stops, and then did a major speech at night.

You don't have much time, only a few minutes at each stop. Sometimes you know what the candidate is going to say. Sometimes, he catches you flat-footed.

One dark night in 1952, somewhere north of Seattle, Eisenhower unexpectedly broke out a brand new line of attack. It came toward the end of a back-platform talk in a small town. Typewriters began to smoke in the press car. The train started to move. We ripped the copy from the machines, yelled "Western Union,"—and to our horror, saw the agent roll all the stories into a single ball of paper, and hurl them out into darkness.

"Don't worry," he said, soothingly. "My guy will find that copy, and your offices will get it." And by golly, they did.

It wasn't always like that, the heat wasn't always on.

Frequently, there was time to mingle with the crowd packed around the rear car. Then you got a voter's-eye view of the candidate. You could sense his strong and weak points, and how the people were reacting, and what they said and what attracted them.

For instance, it was worth a lot of votes to Eisenhower, four years ago, when, at the end of a talk, he would say, "And now, I would like to introduce my Mamie."

There were the times, too, when he would mosey into the press car and sit around, just talking. He was friendly and naturaly—and a good story would usually come out of these talks.

Well, many scenes stand out. Adlai Stevenson's tact and graceful behavior in a fearful storm in Springfield, Mass. The 90-mile-an-hour automobile ride down the Jersey Turnpike. Going into little airports in the Far West where a four-engine plane had never gone before. The dawn departures and the "laundry stops" where they lost your laundry. The photographers' compartment on the train, labeled the "Rewohnesie Club." (read it backwards.)

And of course, Jackson, Mich. A small boy crowding close around the press section, tapped me on the shoulder as I typed. "Are you Relman Morin," he asked.

I preened and puffed. Recognition, at last. "Why, yes," I said, modestly. "How did you know?"

"I can read," he said scornfully—pointing to my name on the typewriter cover.

"I never saw anything like it!"

Today is Wisk day!

There's the grace of line you can see stretching before you—and the sure and nimble way this beauty handles and corners and tracks and targets to the road.

So come be our guest at the wheel of a spanking-new Buick—just for fun and kicks and a new excitement. And if you feel this is the car for you, we'll show you prices and a deal that say it's yours for sure. Drop in today or tomorrow, won't you?

This Blonde Psychologist Knows Her Prisoners Well

VIRGINIA IVES

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — One stone has been thrown at Virginia Ives during her 3½ years as a men's prison psychologist.

It grazed the hem of her skirt. She doesn't know who threw it and doesn't really care.

Miss Ives, 35-year-old, attractive honey-blonde from St. Louis, Mo., is one of a staff of seven who try to help prisoners at the Navy's Camp Elliott Retraining Command with their mental attitudes and emotional problems.

She is the only full-time woman psychologist in an all-male prison, civil or military, in California.

The 950 men normally confined at Camp Elliott, range from murderers to those guilty of misdemeanors against Navy laws.

Miss Ives, who obtained her bachelor's degree in psychology at the University of Colorado and her master's degree at the University of California at Berkeley, was given a Marine guard to cross the prison compound when she started her prison duties.

"But I felt silly and uncomfortable," she said. "One day I walked across alone and I've been doing it ever since."

Nothing worse than the single rock-throwing incident has happened.

Miss Ives was given her position at the insistence of J. Douglas Grant, clinical psychologist and research coordinator of the retraining command when it was established at Vallejo, Calif. It was moved to Camp Elliott two years ago.

Grant says Miss Ives "represents a mother, or wife, or sweetheart to the men" and that, as such, they have a confidence in her that they might not have for a male psychologist.

She tries to readjust the prisoners' attitude towards the Navy and society in general.

"But generally, we don't have nearly enough time," she says.

Man Claims Wife Hit Him With Statuette

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Albert Babdaty won a divorce on testimony that his wife, Martha, broke a statuette of St. Francis of Assisi over his head.

She took a statuette to court yesterday to prove it is still unbroken and unmended. But Babdaty insisted the statuette she exhibited is not the one with which, he said, she struck him over the head on the day of their final estrangement, April 24, 1955.

The one that hit him, he said, looked and felt much bigger.

Mrs. Babdaty, who cried during the entire hearing, opposed his divorce petition and asked $510 monthly alimony. The court denied her alimony but directed Babdaty to pay her lawyers $650.

Easter Bunny Can Blame Truck Wreck

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—If the Easter bunny runs short on eggs this year, he can blame a Texas traffic mishap. When a truck driven by Virgil German, 19, Bryan, Tex., overturned near here last night, an estimated 23,000 of the 70,000 eggs on it were broken.

Upon discovering Jamaica in 1494, Columbus named it Saint Iago, but the original name Jamaica soon re-established itself.

Canada Seeks To Push Vote In Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)— Canada is seeking to push the Indochina stalemate off dead center far enough to hold talks about unifying elections—if not the elections themselves.

Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson is understood to be doing most of the pushing. He dined here last night with Secretary of State Dulles and has arranged to confer in New York tomorrow with India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

Canada and India are members of the international truce commission in Indochina. Communist Poland is the third member.

As things now stand, the biggest Indochina state of Viet Nam is divided between the Communists in the North and the west-backed government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in the South.

Diem's strength has grown from rebel - badgered shakiness to a peak reached with election this month of a constituent assembly in which his supporters hold most of the seats. It is expected to produce a constitution giving Diem much power.

Diem is strongly opposed to holding unifying elections this year. Under the Indochina truce of 1954, such elections were to be held in July of this year to permit all the people of Viet Nam to vote on whether they want the Communists or Diem's government to rule the whole state.

Diem argues that his government is not bound by the 1954 truce since South Viet Nam did not sign it. The French, who formerly controlled Indochina, did.

His refusal to make plans for elections has been the target of Red propaganda. This has disturbed American and other Western officials.

Dulles reportedly believes that during his recent Far East tour he softened Diem's opposition to meeting with the Reds of North Viet Nam to talk about holding the election.

Have Union Pre-Easter Services in Lincoln

Union pre-Easter services will be held at the Lincoln Methodist Church Thursday night at 7:45 p.m. At this time, the Rev. Marvin Long, pastor of the Lincoln Assembly of God Church, will preside. Special music will be presented by members of the Methodist choir. The speaker will be the Rev. W. M. Thomas, pastor of the Lincoln Baptist Church.

Friday night at the same hour, the Methodist Church will again be hosts and the church pastor, the Rev. Loyd Wasson, will preside. Members of the Baptist Church will be in charge of the special music and their pastor, the Rev. Ronald Rasch, will be the speaker.

This is the second year in which the Lincoln churches have paricipated in a Union pre-Easter series of services. This year the meeting began Tuesday night at the Assembly of God Church. The group met Wednesday night at the Christian Church.

Grand Jury Indicts Comedian's Son

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Federal grand jury has indicted the son of comedian Eddie (Rochester) Anderson on a charge of possession and sale of marijuana. Billy Anderson, 28, was among 200 suspects rounded up last weekend by federal, state, county and city officers. The actor's son was a star track and football athlete at Compton College and was the first draft choice in 1953 of the Chicago Bears, professional football team.

California Club Learns About 4-H From Youths

Four of Moniteau County's 4-H members under the supervision of Mrs. Viola M. Smith, home agent, presented a 4-H program to the California Kiwanis Club on Monday night.

Fred Snyder, president of the Grant 4-H Club told why he chose dairy as his project. Always interested in dairy, he got his start from his father. Later he earned enough money to buy a purebred heifer from his brother. He was a member of the Moniteau County 4-H dairying judging team last year and won the County Dairy Achievement Plaque.

Miss Donna Ratcliff of the Red Brush 4-H Club demonstrated how to set a table properly. She tried to show the Kiwanis Club members how 4-H club members taught others by preparing and giving demonstrations. She won second place at the 1955 4-H District Round-Up in Eldon with the demonstration she presented to the club.

Miss Mary Ann Hoellering of the Wonder Workers 4-H Club, told the Kiwanis members, by the use of a flannel graph, about the 4-H activities her club had carried out during the five years she had been a member. She stressed that all the members have yearly dental check-ups as part of their health program. The 4-H activities, which the members carry on, help make the community a better place in which to live.

Donald Yoest of the Flying Eagles 4-H Club presented the Share-the-Fun portion of the 4-H club program. He entertained the group with magic tricks that he has learned to perform. Several of the Kiwanians asked his secrets, but like all magicians, he kept them to himself.

Visitors to Sedalia's Schools on E-B Day Come Face-to-Face With Leading Problems

The visiting of Sedalia schools on Education - Business Day was a day well spent, according to the groups who told of the activities in the schools where they were guests.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL

The smallest school in town is Jefferson, of which George Thompson is principal, and the two visitors to the school, Norman Pitcairn and Harvey L. Keens, were glad they went there. They feel they might have been the only two people of the large group who started out to the schools, who had a fried chicken dinner. "It is a wonderful thing" said Pitcairn, who is a newcomer to Sedalia, "for children to receive a well balanced hot meal prepared in such an excellent manner," as the one they shared with the children.

They noted, too, Pitcairn said, the way in which the teachers managed the children under such adverse conditions as a leaky roof and not enough room. The teachers, he said, took an interest in what all the children were doing and there was no partiality shown to the especially bright ones over the others. That seemed to appeal most to Pitcairn's sense of justice in all the classes he visited in the school.

"I don't know how this school compares with the others" he said, "but Jefferson is desperately in need of repairs." He went on to tell about the danger of the leaking roof both from the standpoint of illness that could come from the water leaking in and the falling of the plaster which could cause injury. The windows, he said, are so loose you can shake them back and forth and basement room, where the children are served in shifts because it is so small, has no ventilation. It is very stuffy in the winter and during the warmer weather there are two fans used, which, he said, couldn't possibly help much. In this school there is no gymnasium or auditorium, and on bad days the youngsters can't get out and play, so they must play in the halls. The better environment, Pitcairn said, the more productivity the teachers may get out of a child.

WHITTIER SCHOOL

Whittier School had four visitors, Lawrence Ward, O. O. Green, Mrs. Violet A. Vincent and Thomas M. Foster.

It was Mrs. Vincent who told the story of the visit to Whittier where she was impressed with the sincerity and devotion of the principal, John (Bud) Thomas to the pupils of the school, and the development and progress of his school and the community.

The grade pupils reflected the character of each teacher, she noted, and she liked the friendliness and hospitality of all the teachers. The school she said was neat and clean and the pupils orderly and anxious to please.

The dinner, Mrs. Vincent said, served at noon was good and commented on the willing student helpers in the food service. There was a pause for a moment at the meal to thank God for the food.

There are two rooms for each grade, Mrs. Vincent said, the class rooms were not crowded but she could see room for improvement in modernizing. For instance, she said, all the rooms, except one, need a cloakroom. At present all the coats are hung outside in the hall and on the railing of the stairway. Wherever they can put up a peg.

The teachers in the lower grades have the use of a film projector for reading instruction. This shows progress, she said, in the method of teaching and she wondered when they will begin using television for teaching and how it would be done.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Visiting Washington school were Ralph Salmon, A. L. Pringle, Leon Hall, Billy Deck and John Brown.

The group was first taken to the cafeteria where they watched the efficient manner in which approximately 300 children were served. There was then a question and answer period in the office of Miss Bessie Perkins, principal.

They enjoyed seeing the pleasant condition in the class room and the different steps of the children from the first grade to the seventh. In the tour about the school the group noticed the limited playground space. In good weather the teachers often take the children to Washington Park to play which is three or four blocks away.

Too, they noted the dire need of major building repair, the badly sagging floors, a crack in the East wall which you can see through, and the need for repair of the boiler connection to heat properly the new rooms. On the first floor lighting is very inadequate, with only two light fixtures where four is needed. The hall ceiling also needs fixing, and the hall needs repair. The men found E-B Day one of real education of learning what is going on in the schools and what the needs are.

MARK TWAIN SCHOOL

At Mark Twain the guests were Virgil Corson, Ray Rodick, Dr. Chester Kirkpatrick, James L. Van Wagner Jr., and Ed Kehde. Jack Delph, principal, acquainted them with the lunch room routine and its problems after which they saw for themselves by watching a typical school room lunch served.

After lunch, Delph took them for a tour of the building at which time they saw the crowded conditions of the school and the needs. They went into the various classrooms where they found the teaching staff very cooperative and informative in outlining their jobs.

The men found in evidence in many of the classrooms the excellent craftsmanship of the Sedalia schools maintenance group.

BOARDWAY SCHOOL

Broadway School had as guests Dr. F. O. Murphy, who made his first visit back to the school since he was a pupil there, Mrs. Mildred Goddard and Joe Ruddick.

They were joined for lunch by Judge E. W. Couey, father of Miss Edyth Couey, principal of the school. There were 216 youngsters being served which was a below-normal day for the cafeteria which usually served close to 300.

Joe Ruddick commented on the tremendous improvements noted since a year ago in enlarging the cafeteria and serving areas. Important too, were the addition of safety features by closing off the gas boiler heating plant and the adding of two exits to the outside of the building from the lunch room area.

A complete tour of the building was conducted by Miss Couey, with brief visits to each of the 14 classrooms and the music department. Particularly exemplary, said Ruddick, were the outstanding music department under Miss Florence Hert as demonstrated by the Broadway orchestra, the art department, Mrs. Bill Klang, and the reading, composition and comprehension progress noted and demonstrated in the primary grades.

The afternoon forum conducted by Miss Couey took in the administrative procedures, operation of the lunchroom and proposed changes, the reduced levy which will be part of the city election on April 3, and the resubmission on May 8 of the major building and remodeling school bond issue.

HORACE MANN SCHOOL

Horace Mann School was visited by C. F. Scotten, Vernon Rodick, Lloyd Phillips, Elmer McClung, Mrs. Leslie Hale, Ralph Carrel, Bob Cain, W. H. Shockey, Dr. Ben Klein, Herbert Seefelt, George Gibbs, Bob Lindstrom and Jack Faber.

P. A. Sillers, principal of the school, presented each visitor with a booklet on "Some Facts Concerning Horace Mann School." In it was a welcome from Sillers, his personnel and the boys and girls of the school. Here too, they found a complete explanation of the levy to be voted in April, the lunch room which has been in existence since 1946-47, the receipts and expenditures, the amount of food, and the average number of children served which is 272 per day. The enrollment in the school is 450 which is almost double the number of children ten years ago, and still they are coming in greater numbers. This school now has the largest enrollment of any grade school in the public school system.

One of the greatest needs of the school is a retaining wall on the Stewart street side and the east side on 16th, for it has only been by the grace of God, said Sillers, that no children have been killed or injured. The play ground slopes and consequently in softball they have made a ground rule that any ball knocked into the street automatically becomes a two-base hit. This is for safety of the children.

This school, too, needs more room, with its swiftly increasing enrollment. It needs a new lunchroom but the group found that the food served to them was delicious.

Creative work was noted by the visitors when the teacher only directed or suggested and the youngsters came up with their own creation which was exceptionally fine work. Thinking things out is another method used, as well as a bit of competition. The same old subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic are still taught but subjects are taught in a more interesting manner.

The ability of P. A. Sillers as a principal seemed to be a thing that impressed the group and the way in which he had planned the entire day.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

Visiting Sacred Heart were Merle Vaughan, Mrs. Carl Yates, Claude L. Boul, Frank Evans, W. B. Rich, Don Weller and Jim Cooney.

There are 96 pupils in high school there, 288 in grade school, with one third of that number from the Air Force Base. There are 210 eating in the cafeteria daily.

A tour of the high school was made first and it seemed there was adequate room, with the typing and shorthand room built from the bleachers in the gymnasium. The 43 first graders were having classes on the gymnasium stage. All available space is well utilized.

The new addition being built will provide ten new class rooms, the four on the first floor for grade pupils, the four on the second floor for high school students and the other two will be study halls for the high school.

Merle Vaughan, the only Protestant in the group, noted that one of the other visitors mentioned there is no tax money being used for the school and another stressed the point that there was a need for more room so they were doing something about it.

They were all proud of the improved and advanced teaching methods and made much greater use of the visual aids since they were in the school. The sister stated that students took part more easily than earlier times and mentioned more sources of improvement, such as TV.

One visitor mentioned a pleasant relationship between the teachers and youngsters. In one English class there was a contest between the girls and boys, and each took his or her place with no prompting from the instructor.

Discussion was made on the need for more space and they had considered giving up the cafeteria to use it for classrooms, but the final decision was the new construction.

The sister mentioned, too, that they had no more space for living quarters for sisters and were already employing two very fine lay teachers.

It was quite a day for everybody who took time out for visiting the schools of the city. Two other schools visited were Smith-Cotton and Hubbard. All the men and women were very happy that they had a day back to school and felt more keenly the needs and problems, and they have a better understanding of what is going on in the schools.

Insect Report—

Pea Aphids Build Up Rapidly; Alfalfa Fields Need Spraying

By Stirling Kyd
Extension Entomologist
George W. Thomas
Survey Entomologist

Pea Aphids — During the past couple of weeks, pea aphids have been building up rapidly on alfalfa. In fact, they have now reached the point in many fields where spraying is needed immediately.

It's hard to give even a rule of thumb to follow in deciding when the aphid population is high enough to justify spraying, but this early in the season, if there are as many as 10 aphids per crown of seedling alfalfa or 15 to 20 aphids per crown of alfalfa in established stands, we believe controls are needed. Keep in mind that these insects will be with us for another month or so, and they increase extremely rapidly during that time. Parasites and predators will start working them as soon as temperatures average about 60 degrees or above, but the aphids continue to reproduce as long as temperatures are about 40 degrees. Consequently, the type of weather we have had for the past several weeks is ideal for pea aphid build-up.

For control, use 4 ounces of parathion per acre applied by a commercial operator only, or use 1½ pints of 55 per cent malathion emulsifiable concentrate (15 to 16 ounces of actual malathion) per acre if a farmer applies it himself.

We do not recommend a farmer try to apply parathion. Commercial operators can equip themselves to handle it. Malathion is safe to use, but it is expensive. Commercial applications of malathion are almost prohibitive in price.

Heaviest infestations so far are in the southern part of the state, but alfalfa over the entire state should be wached carefully during the next several weeks. A heavy infestation can cause extremely heavy damage — not only in loss of tonnage on the first cutting, but in some cases, will cause a serious thinning of the stand.

Don't wait until a field is seriously damaged before applying the spray.

Spotted Alfalfa Aphids — There are some spotted alfalfa aphids mixed in with the pea aphids in the southwestern counties. So far, however, the big majority are pea aphids. We will keep you informed on the development of the spotted alfalfa aphid.

We have had several questions on this aphid. It is a foreign import, probably brought into this country in, or on, aircraft. It was first found in New Mexico in 1954, had become a serious pest in that state and in California and Arizona, before the end of the 1954 season. By the end of the 1955 season, it had spread over a wide area, including the entire state of Missouri.

There is no way of knowing for sure, whether or not this insect will become firmly established in Missouri, although indications are that it will. If it does, it will be an extremely serious pest on alfalfa.

Control recommendations will be the same as given for pea aphids. Best time to apply seems to be when the alfalfa is in the 2 to 4 inch stage.

Book Is Returned To Duke University After 36 Years

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Duke University has regained a library book that was checked out 36 year ago.

Duke levies a nickel a day on overdue books, and this one could have cost the borrower $650. The professor who brought it back got a thank you instead of a fine. He found it among his father's books.

The book, a biography of Napoleon, was checked out Oct. 8, 1919.

Duke officials say about 400-500 of their 1,200,000 volumes are lost, strayed or stolen each year.

Easter Service May Be the Highest

LEADVILLE, Colo. (AP)—What is believed to be the highest Easter sunrise service in the nation will be held atop 11,750-foot Cooper Hill. Participants will be borne to the top of the hill by a ski tow. Services will start at 9:30 a.m. at the base of the hill and will move to the summit for the blessing and final prayer.

Small fry usually like bowls of two-way soup. Heat cream of tomato soup in a sauce-pan; in another pan heat cream of green pea soup. Holding one pan of soup in one hand, and the other pan of soup in the other hand, pour the two varieties into a soup bowl at the same time. The tomato soup will stay at one side of the bowl, the green pea soup at the other, creating an effect that will seem wonderful to Junior!

SHE'S GOT 'EM IN THE AISLES—In the bus aisle, that is, and to learn music. Mrs. Frances Gorsuch, a music supervisor, is faced with a classroom shortage at the Oddstadt school near San Francisco, Calif. So she holds band practice in a school bus parked in front of the school. Music racks are set up in the aisle. "The acoustics aren't so good, and we have children getting tangled up with trombones," Mrs. Gorsuch says, "but we're making music, and that's the important thing."

Adlai Takes Off Gloves In Campaign

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adlai Stevenson—"a little angry and upset"—has launched his strongest, most personal attack yet on Sen. Estes Kefauver, his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson, in a major address here last night, charged Kefauver with trying to capture California support with the same kind of "boss nonsense" which the senator cited in Minnesota.

"But more important even than this effort to injure me . . . by confusing endorsement with dictation is that by discrediting the leaders of the Democratic party here in California the senator and his spokesmen can only weaken and divide the party and thereby help the Republicans," Stevenson declared in his televised speech.

To party observers, it looked as if Stevenson had taken off his wraps for a hand-to-hand encounter with Kefauver even though the former Illinois governor had indicated earlier that he did not intend to engage in personalities.

His unmistakable jabs last night made it appear that he had decided a real knockdown fight is necessary if he is to recover from the Kefauver victory in Minnesota last week.

Obviously referring to Kefauver, he told a rally of 500 Democrats later last night:

"I have been a little angry and upset about things that have happened lately. His characterization of your leaders as bosses upset me deeply. Now it's my turn to fight for you."

Stevenson said he would have to campaign "my way from here on in. I am not going to attempt to compete in a race with either Democratic or Republican candidates where I will have to continually try to outbid my opponents."

Storage Tank Valve Spills Gasoline Over Hewitt Terminals

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard, fearing a lake of escaped gasoline at the Hewitt Oil Terminals might turn into a holocaust, has banned visitors to the area. A valve in a 3½ million gallon storage tank let loose Tuesday, flooding part of the terminal with 86-octane fuel. Workmen are attempting to salvage some of the gasoline in pumping operation that will take about three days.

Denver Police Will Forego Annual Ball

DENVER (AP)—For the first time in 37 years, local police will forego their annual Policeman's ball since a pay raise was approved at a special election March 20. Sgt. Thomas L. O'Neill explained, "We didn't feel it was fair to ask the public to support a dance after giving us the pay raise."

Pep Squad Gives Dinner Honoring Basketball Teams

The pep squad of the Knob Noster High School gave a banquet at the elementary school building Friday night for the basketball teams and the coach, William Elwell. Other guests were high school faculty members and their wives and husbands, and Ralph Epple and Kelly Neitzert, school bus drivers who drove the teams to out of town games, and Mrs. Neitzert.

The room was decorated in the school colors, orange and black, with orange and white balloons. Suspended from the ceiling was "Sportlights of 1955-56." Tables were arranged in a V shape. In the center was a table holding the trophies and a basketball. Favors were panther shaped scoreboard booklets in black and white. A bouquet of yellow snapdragons was on the speaker's table. Members of the PTA served.

Byron Lane gave the invocation. Mrs. Charles Gottschalk, pep squad sponsor, proposed a toast. Linda Jageman gave the welcome and the response was given by Jim Coons. George Cooper introduced the speaker, the Rev. Donald G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Superintendent James Jageman made a speech before Coach Elwell made the awards.

"A" Team basketball boys are Wayne Bass, Bill Brant, Milton Bratton, George Cooper, Marvin Doege, Charles Grandestaff, Jim Rehkop, Lee Stevens, Jack Swope, David Viles and Larry Wharton.

"B" Team boys are Allen Brant, Larry Brant, Jim Coons, Larry Dirck, W. H. Draper, Duane Judd, Donnie Kendrick, Donald Kuhlman, Leon Nace and Alvin Werneke. Larry Draper is the manager.

Linda Jageman is the president of the pep squad while Marilyn Draper is vice-president, Mary Brant, secretary and Glenda Coons treasurer.

Cheer leaders are Jeanne Hughes, Marilyn Vilks, Dorothy Lynde, Lois Siegfried, Janet Neitzert and Shirley Duffer.

Awards were given to the teams and special recognition was given to Charles Grandestaff and George Cooper, co-captains.

$650,000 Damage Suit Is Filed by Sisters

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two daughters of a local artist have filed a $650,000 damage suit against a storage company contending their father's paintings were damaged by rough handling.

Works of the late John Douglas Patrick are involved. Mrs. Grace Patrick Wray and Mrs. Hazel Patrick Rickenbacher named the Perky Brothers Transfer and Storage Co. as defendant.

The daughters said they had placed 55 paintings in a vault for which they provided a lock and key. Sometime after 1937, the suit added, the canvases were removed to open storage in a warehouse without their consent and some were damaged.

See Fast UN Council Action On Peace Trip

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Some U.N. delegates predicted today the U.N. Security Council would adopt a U.S. resolution to send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on a Palestine peace mission. Opinions differed on how soon the council might act.

One council member told a reporter the vote would come Tuesday at the next council meeting on the American proposals. Another said further meetings would be necessary for full U.S. answers to Arab—and possibly Israeli—questions on the aim and scope of the mission.

The forecasts of final approval were based on speeches to the council yesterday by Egypt and Syria. These generally were considered moderate in tone.

Egyptian Delegate Omar Loutfi and Syrian Delegate Ahmed Shukairy both asked if Hammarskjold was to deal with anything beyond the 1949 Palestine armistice agreements. Both said they sought only clarification, and Loutfi asserted Egypt is "always prepared to work hand in hand" with Hammarskjold and the U.N. truce chief in Palestine, Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns.

Shukairy declared Syria had nothing to hide and would "welcome a survey of the extent of compliance with the armistice agreements." He asked, however, Hammarskjold would be assigned to amend the agreements and if he would be expected to deal with political, economic and financial problems.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said their questions could be "quickly and clearly answered" at Tuesday's meeting.

"There are no hidden meanings in this," Lodge said. "If you search from now until doomsday with a magnifying glass, the only purpose you will find is to prevent war."

Calling for "urgent and early action," the U.S. resolution would send Hammarskjold to the Middle East for discussions on reducing tensions along the armistice lines separating Israel and the Arab states.

An Israeli source said the U.S. resolution was acceptable to his delegation but that Israel would have "some observations" to make to the council. Israel's other two Arab neighbors, Lebanon and Jordan, so far have withheld comment.

Indiana Primary May Be Popularity Contest Between Ike, Senator

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indiana's presidential preference primary May 8 shaped up today as a popularity contest between Sen. Estes Kefauver, unopposed on the Democratic ballot, and President Eisenhower, with only a splinter-group Republican opponent.

Kefauver's Indiana backers planned to file his entry today.

The President's name was entered March 6 by Gov. George N. Craig, ardent supporter of the Eisenhower administration, with Eisenhower's approval.

Lar Daly, 44-year-old Chicago furniture manufacturer who calls himself an "America First Republican" and campaigns in an Uncle Sam costume, said he would file in the Republican primary late today.

Adlai Stevenson's national campaign headquarters said he would not enter the Indiana primary.

The comparative vote for Eisenhower and Kefauver will be watched closely for indications of the administration's popularity in this farming and industrial state.

Indiana has 32 delegates to the Republican National Convention, 26 to the Democratic convention.

Hold School Election

Traffic Death Rate Is Climbing Faster Than Travel Increase

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths are going up and up.

The National Safety Council focused attention on the long upward climb with this statement:

"February was the 12th month in a row to show more deaths than the same month of the preceding year.

"Deaths are now going up faster than the increase in travel, so the only conclusion is that people are driving more carelessly."

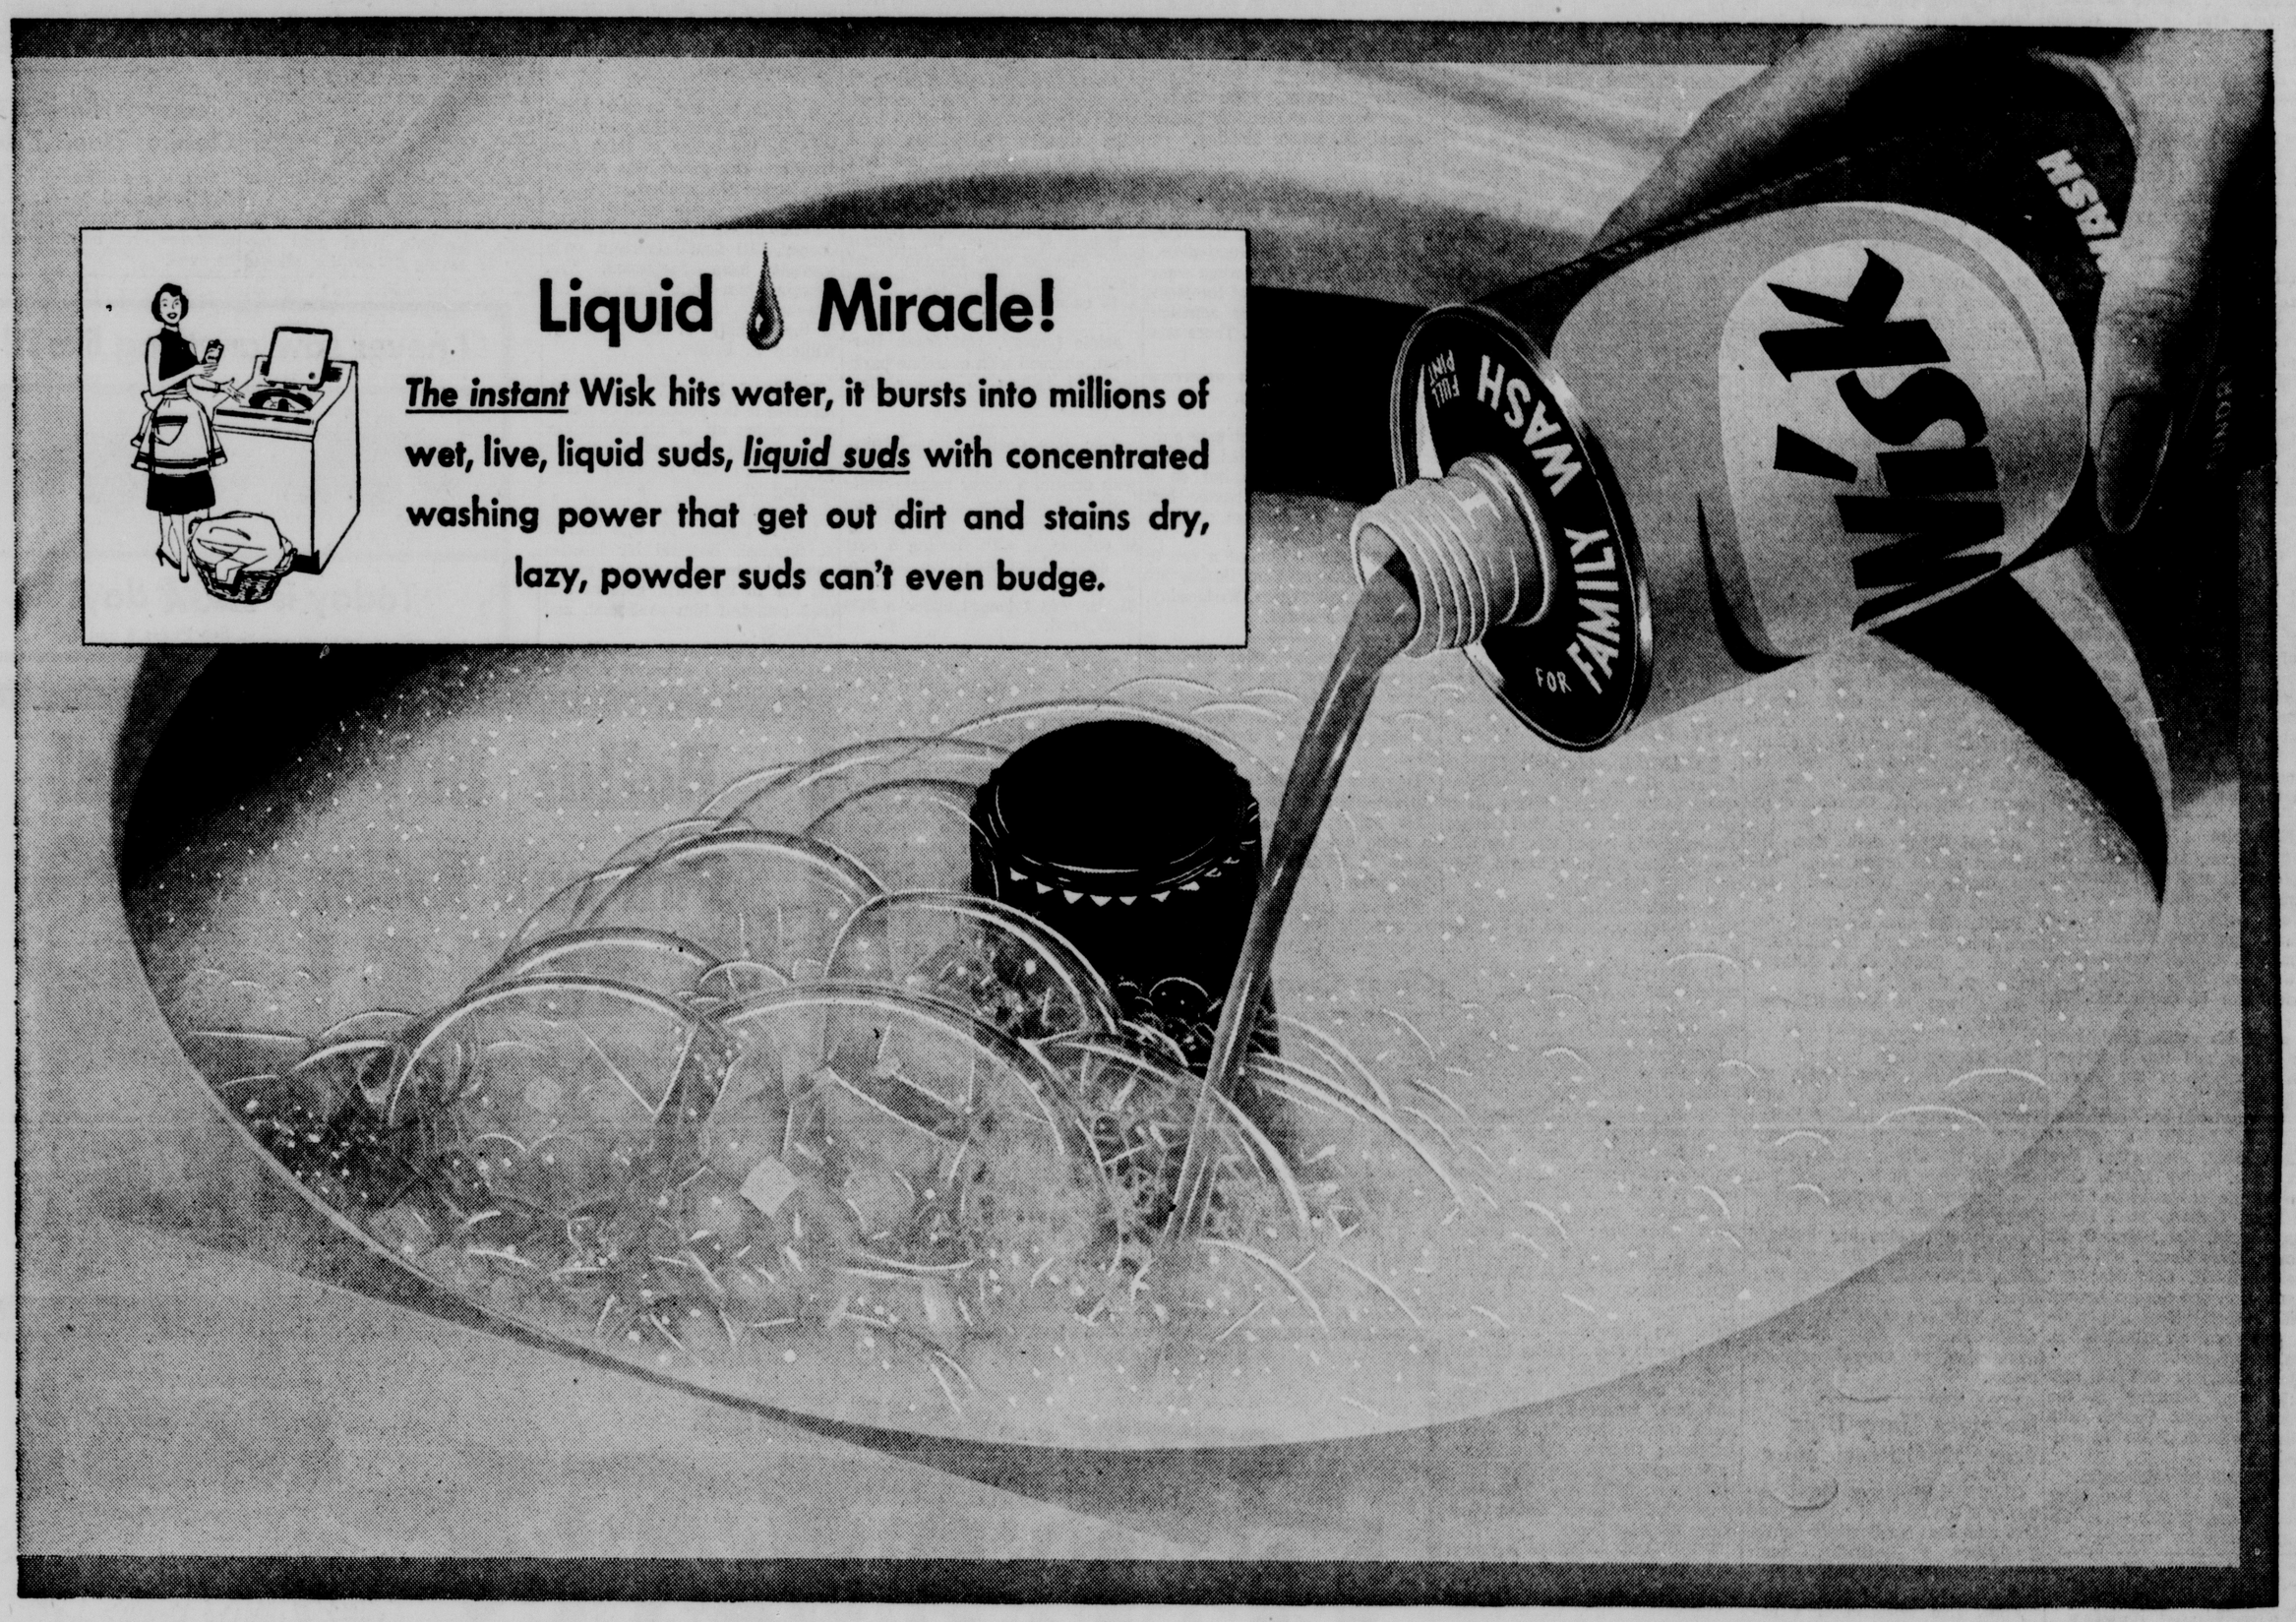

The council said motor vehicle fatalities in February equalled the all-time high for a February. It killed, the same number as in February in 1941 and 1952.

The toll in February of this year was 16 per cent higher than in February 1955. Some of the increase was attributed to the extra day in this leap year February.

But, the council said, it was the largest monthly percentage increase since June 1951.

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

New, blue WISK is the first detergent of its kind ever made. It is a new formula — completely different from anything else you ever tried.

In the first place, it is a liquid that you pour into your washing machine. It goes to work the instant it hits water. There's no waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And it does a better job, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power completely unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics — safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH!

Never again need you take a napkin out of your washer and find a gravy stain still in it. Never again need you find a lipstick stain left in a hand towel or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep down into the cloth fibers in a way that no powder is able to. Safely, but, oh, so thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything spotlessly clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for the collars and cuffs of your husband's shirts! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash no matter what detergent you used in the past. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so wonderfully clean you can even smell the difference between a WISK wash and one done with another product!

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated liquid WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look like new. And if your kitchen cabinets have yellowed with age, it washes them white and shiny again without scratching or marring the surface in any way.

New, blue, liquid WISK does the toughest cleaning jobs quicker, easier, and more safely than products specially designed for these tasks. Now you can put those harsh and dangerous chemicals in the garbage can where they belong!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS! NO MORE CLUTTERED SHELVES!

And what a blessing WISK is! It does away with "washday hay fever." The handy can does away with clumsy boxes that get soggy and fall apart. It does away with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, it means that you don't have to clutter up your shelves with a box for this, a bottle for that, and all those other packages a woman used to need to keep her home clean.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED BY LEVER BROTHERS!

We've promised a good deal for WISK in this advertisement, but we mean every word we've said. In fact, we guarantee them. We've had them checked by Good Housekeeping Institute and by Parents' magazine. And if you don't agree that every word is true, that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used — not just as good, but the BEST! — we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage! So start using WISK today! It's at grocers and supermarkets in pint and quart sizes.

WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the very first wash!

WISK rinses away cleaner than any powder ever made! WISK rinses away as only a liquid can! Leaves no undissolved powder or soap scum to scorch when ironing.

WISK removes more stains than any powder! Wet stain with water. Spread WISK directly on stain. Put in machine with rest of wash. WISK gets everything clean.

WISK is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made! WISK is safe as only a liquid can be, safe for anything that's safe in water. Kind to hands. And no sneezes!

You haven't washed your cleanest wash ...until you've washed with Wisk!

"Wisk-it's wonderful!"

Padlocking Of Red Doors Draws Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The padlocking of U.S. Communist party offices and those of its paper, the Daily Worker, drew praise today from several members of Congress.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark) and Robertson (D-Va) endorsed a proposal by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) that the Treasury Department assign a panel of crack income tax experts for an "all-out blitz" against Communist organizations.

In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and in a Senate speech yesterday, Wiley said the technique he has in mind is the same used in income tax cases used to jail gangsters.

Internal revenue agents clapped padlocks on Communist headquarters and the Daily Worker offices in New York Tuesday, and in simultaneous raids also padlocked Communist party offices in other cities, alleging income tax delinquencies.

Declaring it is being persecuted, the Communist party contends it is exempt from such taxes as a political party. The Daily Worker says it owes no taxes and that it has been operating at a loss.

McClellan, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he would be willing to support any Treasury Department request for more money to finance such a move as Wiley proposed. But he added the revenue service "seems to be getting along" on what it has.

Robertson voiced similar views in a separate interview.

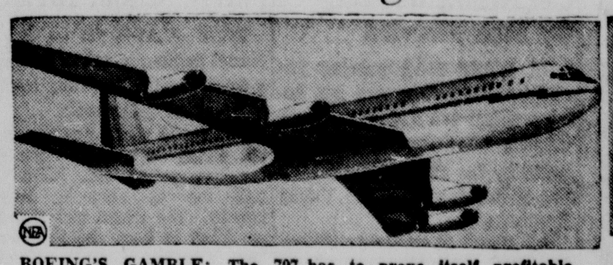

The Daily Worker kept on publishing, using a private firm to do its printing. Only its offices were padlocked.

In an editorial in today's edition, the Daily Worker declared it was locked up only after refusing to give the government the names of its financial backers.

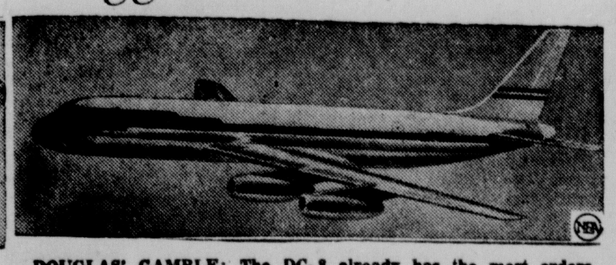

In Detroit, the editor of the Worker's Michigan edition argued revenue agents out of padlocking the office there. He contended the Michigan edition was incorporated as a separate business and could not be seized under the tax action.

Agents did padlock the Communist party's Michigan headquarters next door.

Bets Are Now Being Placed On Biggest Aviation Gamble

BOEING'S GAMBLE: The 707 has to prove itself profitable.

DOUGLAS' GAMBLE: The DC-8 already has the most orders.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Bets are now being placed on the biggest, boldest gamble in aviation history. That's the future of commercial jet flying.

So far the airlines have wagered close to a billion and one-half dollars in orders for jets which can't begin to be delivered until 1958.

The aircraft manufacturers have gambled untold millions for the design and construction work on the jets they're offering.

Everyone agrees that commercial jet flying is bound to follow the great advances in military aviation. But there are some serious problems to be solved before the success of jet travel is assured.

The British came up with their gruesome example of trying to get into passenger jets too fast with the Comet crashes.

U.S. jetliners on order will be safe by all Civil Aeronautics Authority standards. But whether they will be profitable is one vital question that military experience can't answer.

Another difficult problem is the modification of most U.S. airports to make runways longer for jets.

Noise is another headache. Idlewild in New York, and other airports, now refuse to let jets land because of this nuisance. Manufacturers hopefully promise quieting devices.

Finally, the whole body of CAA flight regulations will have to be revised. Jets use so much fuel they can't circle to await a landing turn.

Within the industry the competition to win an early lead in the jet age is fierce. It has inspired its own gambles among the airlines and among the manufacturers.

LOCKHEED'S GAMBLE: The Electra is turbo-prop, not pure jet.

Douglas has put its dough on the four-jet, long-range DC-8. It will fly between 575 and 600 miles per hour and carry more than 100 passengers. More than 100 DC-8s have been ordered.

Boeing has its money on the 707 which is slightly faster than the DC-8. But Boeing does not have the Douglas reputation for making planes highly profitable to operate. It has orders for 72 of the 707s.

Lockheed is betting on its turbo-prop Electra, which uses jet power applied to a prop. Lockheed has orders for 104 Electras. The plane's speed is about 410 miles per hour. It carries about 65 passengers. It's designed for shorter hops.

The success of the British Vickers turbo-prop Viscount was a hunch for Lockheed. Vickers has delivered 90 Viscounts and has orders for 254 more. Capital Airlines, first U.S. line to buy them, has seven flying and reports great success with them.

The Viscount is all that's left of the British lead, lost by the Comet disasters.

Fairchild has combined with Fokker of Holland to begin work on the Friendship, a two-engine turbo-prop. And Convair is talking with the Bristol company of England for possible collaboration on building the turbo-prop Brittania in the U.S.

On their part the airlines take a big gamble on what planes they order. The 707s and DC-8s cost about six million dollars each. Electras cost close to two million doars.

American Airlines for example, is gambling on both the 707 and Electra. It has ordered 30 Boeing 707s and 35 Electras.

Pan-Am has hedged by ordering 20 Boeings and 25 DC-8s.

United is putting its money on the DC-8 by ordering 30. Eastern has ordered 21 DC-8s and 40 Electras.

Foreign airlines have divided about equally between Boeing and Douglas.

Approximately 19 per cent of the newsprint used in the United States is produced in that country, with the bulk of the balance coming from Canada.

Iceland's Parliament Calls on US to Quit North Atlantic Post

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) —Iceland's Parliament has called on U.S. forces to quit this North Atlantic defense post. The move would leave the strategic island—an NATO member almost midway between Moscow and New York—with no military force.

The Communist - supported resolution was adopted 31-18 last night over Conservative opposition. It asked that all NATO forces be pulled out "in view of the altered situation" since 1951. At that time the United States and Iceland agreed on the stationing of U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force units here under NATO command.

The Defense Department in Washington said the United States has on the island a "small Army force of battalion size," an Air Force fighter interceptor squadron several "supporting units" and the joint Iceland defense force. It refused on security grounds to specify the number of men involved.

The resolution said the defense treaty should be revised so that Icelanders—who have no army or navy at present—would take over their own defenses.

Freshwater shrimp run to extremes in size. Most are too small to be of any commercial value, but one species, Macrobrachium carcinus, of southern Florida, grows to a length of two feet.

March Trade Leaves Scene Like a Lamb

NEW YORK (AP) — March bows out of the business scene more like a lamb than a lion. And businessmen look to April for the first sign of a spring pickup that would take them out of the current leveling-off condition.

A revival of confidence was the outstanding mark of March. Seeds were planted for future expansion Some hope that April will see them germinate.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, however, thinks the pickup may be two or three months away. By then contracts will be let and business will start spending the money for the record amount of new plant and equipment it plans to buy this year.

Retail trade as a whole continues to run a little behind the record pace of the closing months of 1955. Americans spent more than usual this month for Easter finery —except in those unfortunate regions where storms kept the shoppers away from the stores.

But the spirit of saving—or of paying off old installment debt—is still strong. Merchants report that shoppers are more intent than ever on hunting for bargains.

Bad weather in many areas appears to have postponed till April the hopes of the auto and home building industries for a marked upturn in sales.

On the production front, the Department of Commerce notes a drop in textiles, clothing and electrical machinery as well as autos. It says this was pretty well offset by a rise in the output of industrial machinery and other forms of capital equipment.

With consumers so far showing no sign of starting another spending spree like the one last fall, the department finds the biggest support for the economy as a whole to be the increase in business spending for plant and equipment.

Doll-Making Is Essential Art for Japanese Marriage

By NEA Service

A Japanese girl who is hoping to make a good marriage had better learn how to make dolls.

If she can also handle the tea ceremony, flower arranging and Konkai (miniature garden) making, then her chances of attracting an eligible and even handsome husband are multiplied.

But the precise art of doll-making ranks with the rest of the necessary accomplishments.

This tradition earns Mrs. Kazuko Nakamura her living. A teacher in doll-making, she is touring the United States with her cousin and professional associate, Mrs. Sato Ozawa, demonstrating the ancient art.

The two are vice principal and principal, respectively, of the Ozawa Japanese Doll School in Tokyo, which numbers among its 3,000 pupils U.S. Army officers' wives.

"Miniature men," as Japanese dolls are called, were first made in the era when the only medical attention available was prayer sessions by Buddhist priests.

The priest would make a small image of the sick person, touch the affected parts and pray for his or her recovery.

Thus, the dolls today are really miniature people — each one representing some character in a fairytale, drama or real life.

The two teachers have with them 100 of these charming miniatures, dressed exquisitely and correctly for their roles. The miniatures range from Kabuki dancers and court ladies in their gorgeous costumes to tiny Tom Thumb, who sailed down the river in a rice bowl, and Princess Bamboo, who was born in a tree.

As they tour the country, Mrs. Nakamura and Mrs. Ozawa will demonstrate exactly how these dolls are made.

Starting with the face mask, molded of French georgette, they will paint the features, glue or sew on the doll's black silk hair, dress it in the correct style and then fasten it to the cloth body on a steel frame. Next the doll will be clothed in any one of a number of gorgeous kimonos.

They will show a Japanese bride arrayed for her wedding; a very young Geisha girl and a married woman and Indian and Burmese dancers made by their pupils. As a bonus attraction, Mrs. Nakamura may show how to make a Bonkai with mud, a few paints and some tiny Japanese figurines — ideal rainy-day amusement for the more erudite members of the sandpile set.

Ex-White House Guest Works as Laborer

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Maragon, the onetime Kansas City bootblack who frequented the White House in the Truman years, is now working for Congress — as a temporary laborer at $1.61 an hour.

"It's not easy work," he told newsmen, "but it's work, it's a job; I'm proud of it."

The new assignment is the first "regular job" Maragon has had since he was released in December 1952 from the federal reformatory at Petersburg, Va. He was sent there under a two-year sentence for perjury growing out of the "five percenter" investigations five years ago.

Maragon's work in the House folding room includes folding and sealing printed matter, piling up heavy books and other documents, and other routine tasks.

Pilgrims Flock To St. Peter's In Vatican City

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Thousands of Roman Catholics, among them many pilgrims and tourists, flocked to St. Peter's today for Holy Thursday services.

A balmy, springtime sun spread a soft glow over Vatican City and Rome, where thousands more gathered in many of the city's nearly 500 churches to commemorate Christ's suffering and death on the cross.

Services in five other Catholic rites—Byzantine-Greek, Byzantine Armenian, Siro-Antioch and Alexandrine-Ethopic — were held in Rome churches.

Pontificial Mass was celebrated in St. Peter's this morning.

Pope Pius XII appeared at the window of his study at noon to bless 20,000 persons — many of them pilgrims — gathered in St. Peter's Square.

Tenebrae services were held in St. Paul outside the walls and in many other Rome churches. They were held for the first time this holy week in St. Peter's yesterday afternoon. Most churches will hold them again tomorrow, Good Friday, and on Holy Saturday.

Ike Confers With Dulles After Return From 'Little Summit'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-hour conference between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles followed closely yesterday Eisenhower's return from his "Little Summit" meeting.

Dulles said they talked over "an accumulation of business," but he declined to give any details. He said no urgency was involved.

The two met at the White House 1¼ hours after Eisenhower returned from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va. There he had met with President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada.

Reports Fourth Death In Measle Epidemic

DETROIT (AP)—A fourth death in Detroit's measles epidemic was reported yesterday by Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city commissioner of health.

Dr. Molner said the latest victim was a 3-year-old boy. He did not name him.

Detroit had 771 reported cases of measles in the last week, compared with 55 in the corresponding week a year ago.

LOST: 260 POUNDS—PLUS—Losing 260 pounds—on a rigid diet of one hard-boiled egg daily for a year—proved very costly, albeit beneficial, to Mrs. Lee Carter of Houston, Tex. An heirloom diamond ring, worth $200, slipped off her thinned finger while she was selling doughnuts at a pastry shop and has not been found. At left she's shown in a size 52 dress when she weighed 400 pounds a year ago. At right, in a size 16 dress, Mrs. Carter weighs only 140 pounds.

Thinks Red Proposal Contains Basic Idea Of Aerial Inspection

LONDON (AP) — An American source says Russia's latest proposal for world disarmament includes the basic concept of President Eisenhower's aerial inspection plan.

Details of the Soviet plan, made at the five-power U.N. Disarmament subcommittee meeting here, were not disclosed. Informants said, however, they were qualified and incomplete.

In the American view, the informants added, the Soviet plan "approaches only part of the problem." But diplomatic sources said they believed the new Soviet proposals represent something more than propaganda and move nearer to the Western position on inspection.

The U.S. delegation immediately forwarded the new Soviet suggestions to Washington for study.

Bill Would Modernize County Budget System

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A bill introduced in the county council yesterday would put the county's budgeting on a more current and realistic basis.

The county is now hampered by a charter provision that requires it to draw up its budget on the basis of revenue received two years previously.

The proposed bill, drawn up by the governmental research institute at the request of the council, would allow it to budget on the basis on revenue received in the year immediately past.

Allied Commander Predicts Reds Will Have More Submarines

NEW YORK (AP)—Adm. Jerauld Wright, supreme Allied commander of the Atlantic Fleet, says that by the end of this year the Soviet Union will have seven times more submarines than Hitler had at the outbreak of World War II.

Speaking yesterday to the Overseas Press Club, Wright cited the need for American buildup of anti-submarine forces.

"Today the Soviets are the world's second naval power in vessels on hand and first naval power in rate of new construction," he said.

Americans eat an average 60,000,000 pounds of meat a day.

Drink Establishments Get Health Warning By State Service

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A warning that sanitary regulations are not being properly enforced in St. Louis drinking establishments has been issued by the Missouri State Division of Health and the U.S. Public Health Service.

In a report of survey yesterday, the two agencies recommended that the city's "clean restaurant ordinance" be broadened to cover drinking places.

Drinking establishments were not covered in the ratings in the survey because they are excluded from the ordinance, but Gene. W. McElyea, MSDH assistant supervisor of food sanitation, said their ratings would be "considerably lower" than St. Louis restaurants.

The study of 50 restaurants praised them and gave them an 82.3 per cent approved rating for sanitation and 82 per cent for enforcement. Two years ago the sanitation rating was 75 per cent.

St. Louis is the only city in Missouri which has passed the uniform restaurant ordinance and excluded taverns from its provisions, McElyea said.

Alaska's main industry is fishing, with mining second.

Poison Oak Outbreak Forces School Break

WEST PLAINS (AP) — Bridges School pupils are out of school on a week vacation resulting from an outbreak of poison oak.

The pupils were digging out an old spring last week when they ran into poison oak. More than half the 23 students became infected. The school was closed in an effort to keep the skin irritation from spreading.

Rebellion Leaders Are Freed in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Six convicted leaders of a rebellion which bloodied Madagascar in 1947 today were ordered released from prison. It was believed they will be assigned a forced residence in southern France.

Justice Minister Francois Mitterrand ordered the releases after the six agreed to take no more part in political activities.

BUG MAN—That old cartoonists' standby, the "future man" with antennae coming out of his helmet, has arrived. He's Ray Wonacott, employe at the Hanford plutonium plant in Richland, Wash. Antennae and throat microphone are used to report by radio the radiation intensity in a "hot" zone at the plant. This speeds recording of radiation readings taken on the round detector Wonacott is holding. Utility Bill Paying Time Will Change in April for Our Customers in Knob Noster, La Monte and Montserrat

THIS IS NOT AN INCREASE IN RATES

Because certain economies can be affected in billing our costomers and because it is the Company's policy to try and effect any and all operating economies in line with sound business practice in order to try and hold our rates to our customers as low as possible, changes in final discount dates must be made to our customers in Knob Noster, LaMonte, and Montserrat.

The Company reads meters after a month's use of the service and attempts to bill for the service used as promptly as possible. In the growth of the whole Company area, along with a vast increase in the number of our customers, a situation has arisen where there is sometimes a lag of almost a month between meter reading dates and the billing for the service which means that in many instances customers are really paying for services used in (say) February on bills sent out in April. These changes will bring meter readings and billings closer together.

In making these changes, Knob Noster, La Monte, and Montserrat customers will get two full months' bills for services in one month. One advantage to customers will be that final bills—rendered when service is disconnected for any reason, when all lag must be picked up—will be smaller.

It is highly important that all economies in operation be put into effect now if our rates to customers are to be held as low as possible. May we remind you again that this Company is the only major electric utility in Missouri which has not been forced to increase its rates to customers since World War II.

In Knob Noster, LaMonte, and Montserrat, the bills have been received by customers on the 10th of the month, payable at the net rate until the 20th. Starting with April, bills will be received on the 21st of the month and can be paid at the net rate until the 30th of the month. As an example, on April 10 these customers will receive a bill for service from February 13 to March 13. They will receive another bill on April 21st for service from March 13 to April 13.

Missouri Public Service Company realizes these changes will probably cause confusion to customers whose times of payment are being changed. To do all possible to have it understood post cards showing the time of the end of the discount period have been mailed to each customer. For the first month or two, until customers have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with changes, no additional amount for failure to pay within the prescribed time will be charged customers.

Any questions relating to the above, with a full explanation of your bill, will be cheerfully given at your bill paying office or our Warrensburg office. We hope our customers will bear with us in this change, in the interest of holding future bills for our services to as low a minimum as we can.

Stover Girls Win Their Tournament

The Stover High School girls' volleyball team defeated Versailles 24-20 to win their own invitational tournament the past week. The victory kept the Stover Bulldogs unbeaten record intact.

For Stover it was their 15th straight win with no losses and ended the season play. It marked the third meeting with the Versailles aggregation. The final game was one of the tournament thrillers with the lead changing hands several times throughout the game.

Stover held a slim margin at the half 12-10. With two minutes left in the game Stover had a 24-20 lead. Versailles gained control of the ball in the last 20 seconds of the game, but did not have enough time left to get an offensive maneuver started.

Tipton won third place by defeating Osage 24 to 16 in another well played game.

In the Junior High Division, Stover defeated Versailles 24 to 10 to capture first place. The Bulldogs swept to an early lead and held a commanding position all through the game. School of the Osage won third place by defeating California 33 to 10.

The Junior High girls defeated Eldon 45 to 8, Osage 26 to 13, and Versailles 24 to 10. The Senior High in their march to the championship defeated Camdenton 31 to 10, Osage 45 to 18 and Versailles 24 to 20.

For the Junior High team it also was its 15th straight win with no losses. Both teams finished the season unbeaten for his year.

Saurday's final games were played to capacity house.

1954 Batting Champ Hopes to Get Back Into Regular Action

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Al Kaline threw a baseball yesterday for the first time in more than a week. And he reported no pain.

The young 1954 American League batting champion has been in and out of the Detroit Tiger lineup all spring with a sore arm.

He said he hoped to get back into regular action "within a few days."

Greco-Roman Wrestling Has Invaded Tulsa

By KEITH K. KING

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Greco-Roman wrestling, a sport little known in this country, today took over the mats where seven National AAU tournament free-style championships were won last night.

The University of Toledo's Joe Scalzo, who will coach this year the first United States team in the Olympic Games' Greco-Roman style, hoped the competition would draw the most skilled of the free-stylers.

In Greco-Roman, a wrestler is not permitted to use his legs for holds of tripping and may grasp an opponent's body only above the waist.

But whatever grapple talent might be uncovered in this unfamiliar art, it could hardly match that demonstrated through three days of the free style eliminations by the University of Oklahoma's Danny Hodge.

Representing the Norman, Okla. Sooner A. C., this college strong boy paced his club to the AAU's team championship with six straight flls to win the 174-pound title and was awarded the meet's trophy for the outsanding wrestler.

He was one of the Sooner A. C.'s three winners. The others were Bill (Ernie) Fischer, an airman at the Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, at 160.5 pounds, and Dick Delgado at 114.5.

Like Hodge and Delgado, who pinned four opponents for a title as early as Tuesday night, Navyman Pete Blair felled every foe to win the 191-pound crown. He had five falls.

Alan Rice of the New York A. C. won the 136.5-pound championship as well as the tournament's sportsmanship award. He rejected a questionable fall over his final opponent, a pin he needed to win the crown, then went on to score one in clear-cut fashion.

Other title-winners were heavyweight Bill Kerslake, Cleveland Case A. C., only 1955 champion to repeat; Bill Carter, Tulsa YMCA, at 125.6 pounds; and Tommy Evans, Tulsa Y, 147.5.

The Tulsa Y finished second in team competition with 19 points to the Sooner A. C.'s 26.

British Golf Champ Returns to US First Time in Eight Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Great Britain's Henry Cotton, returning to America for the first time in eight years to play in the Masters Tournament, says golf no longer is a game for the "popcorn-ball hitter, the artist of the links."

"The accent is entirely on power," said the 49-year-old two-time British Open champion yesterday in a stopover here en route to Augusta, Ga. "The modern courses are built for it, the equipment encourages it and the best players today are sluggers.

"The little men, fellows like Paul Runyan and Chief Evans of the old days, haven't a chance. They might as well pack up their bags and try something else."

Cotton, a man of slight stature himself and one of the game's cleverest shotsmiths, said naturally he was "regretful" to see the passing of an era, but he added:

"We have to accept it—just as we accept streamlined automobiles and central heating."

Lopez Makes Good Showing in New Centerfield Position

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.,(AP)—Looks like they've made a smart center fielder out of Hector Lopez, Kansas City's transformed third baseman.

He made three putouts and threw out two runners on bases at Sarasota, Fla., yesterday as the A's lost an exhibition game to Boston 7-2.

Lopez was spectacular in handling a Billy Klaus liner to left center in the third inning. He raced over to grab the curving drive, whirled and fired home in time to catch Jim Piersall in a dash from third.

Hogan's Retirement Seems Short Lived

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Hogan's retirement seems to have been short-lived.

The four - time National Open champion from Fort Worth, Tex., who announced after his defeat in the 1955 open that he was through with serious competitive golf, accepted an invitation today to represent the United States in the International matches at Surrey, England, June 24-26.

Boston's Porterfield Looks Ready for Big Pitching Year

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Unless he's hit by a line drive, a thrown ball or a slumping earned run average, Bob Porterfield looks ready to come up with a whale of a year and put the Boston Red Sox in the thick of the American League pennant race.

Porterfield, obtained from Washington last November, has looked great in the Sox exhibition games. He's won three, lost one and put together an awesome 1.50 ERA, giving up only two walks and three earned runs in 18 innings. With guys like Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Sammy White on his side, there's little reason to doubt that Bob will improve on his 10-17 pitching record of last season.

The rub, however, is that he will have to steer clear of injuries. For if anyone can qualify for the title of the "unluckiest player in the majors" it's the same Mr. Porterfield.

Bob, now 31, came up to the New York Yankees in 1948 with a fine reputation. The following year, Casey Stengel was ready to make him one of his front-line hurlers.

"But there was always something wrong," complained Casey. "Sore arms, sore legs, sore head, always something sore."

After that Porterfield came up with sundry other hurts, including a fractured jaw and a concussion.

Yesteryay, Porterfield gave up only three hits and one run in six innings as the Red Sox downed the Kansas City A's 7-2. Jackie Jensen slammed his first homer of the spring.

Injuries struck four players in the Yankees - Washington game, won by the Senators 6-4. After the victims were counted up the list looked this way: Yankees—Mickey Mantle, pulled leg muscle; Billy Martin, bruised knee; Senators—Pete Runnels, bruised hand; Hal Griggs, bruised ankle. Bob Turley took his fourth pounding of the Grapefruit League season. He gave up six runs in six innings.

The Detroit Tigers, with rookie infielder Buddy Hicks getting six hits in six at bats, came to life and defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 15-5.

Stan Musial got three hits as the St. Louis Cards shellacked the Cincinnati Redlegs 13-4.

In other games, the Pittsburgh Pirates pulled a triple play and got three runs batted in from Frank Thomson in beating the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2. The Milwaukee Braves pounded Billy Pierce for four runs in the first inning and coasted to a 7-4 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

A grand slam homer by Stu Locklin and a solo wallop by Al Rosen enabled the Cleveland Indians to nip the Chicago Cubs 8-7. And homers by Dusty Rhodes and Willie Mays helped the New York Giants to a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Cardinals' Leading Hitter Will Try For Batting Title

CLEARWATER, Fla., (AP)—Wally Moon, leading hitter of the St. Louis Cardinals in spring training, feels he has a good chance for the batting title this year—if he can solve lefthanders.

"I'm going all out for the title this season," Wally said yesterday after a 3-for-4 day at the plate. It raised his average to .361.

"I intend to crowd the plate against those lefties," he added, "maybe bunting now and then and hitting more to left field."

Moon and Stan Musial led the attack with three hits each as the Redbirds clubbed Cincinnati, 13-4, with a 14-hit barrage. Musial is hitting .358, Ken Boyer .350 and Red Schoendienst .341.

It was the eighth victory in the last nine games for St. Louis, now 12-7 in Grapefruit League play.

Underdog Scores Decision in 10-Round Bout With Lightburn

CLEVELAND (AP) — The new ring ratings are just out, but a name is missing among the lightweight contenders to be reckoned with. Langston Carl Morgan Jr. of Youngstown, Ohio, belongs among them now.

A 5-2 underdog in the betting, Morgan scored a unanimous decision in a slam-bang 10-rounder last night aginst Ludwig Lightburn, clasisy British Honduras boxer who ranks fourth among the lightweight hopefuls.

The upset came close to being vastly more startling, for Morgan almost had a kayo midway in the first round. He landed his powerful right cross on Lightburn's chin and the favorite went down and remained dazed for the rest of the round.

Lightburn, who had won seven straight, finished strong and felled Morgan with a right cross in the ninth, but he never came close to catching up with the margin the Youngstown boy piled up in the first four rounds.

Both judges scored it 94-93 for Morgan, and Referee Tony Labranche put Morgan on top 97-88. The A card favored Morgan 97-92.

aSix months ago Lightburn took a split decision from Morgan in an eight-rounder here. That was one of two fights Morgan has lost in 17. He has won 10 by knockouts.

Cheaper By the Can

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Sports fishermen find the price of salmon high in these parts.

The Oregon Game Commission reports that fishermen spent $1,300,000 in a single year on the Lower Rogue River in fishing for salmon.

That brought the price of every salmon caught to $102.

Dodgers Worried Over Southpaw Pitcher

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers are worried about southpaw Ken Lehman who was supposed to be "the new" Johnny Podres.

"He's supposed to be a control pitcher," lamented Manager Walt Alston, "but you'd never know it." So far Lehman has issued 17 walks in 19 innings.

Coach Takes Swipe at New Rules Changes

By CHRIS EDMONDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The best defensive coach in college basketball took an oral swipe today at the rules changes ordered for next season.

"They've been making the same mistake for the last three or four years," snorted Phil Woolpert, whose University of San Francisco Dons won their second straight NCAA cage title last week on their 55th consecutive victory.

"They're trying to legislate defense instead of coaching it."

Woolpert's Dons topped the nation's collegiate cagers two successive years in defensive play while rolling up the longest winning streak on record against major foes. Backbone of the defense was All-America center Bill Russell, a 6-10 windmill who specialized in batting down opponents' shots before they even reached the backboard.

The rules change to which Woolpert objects most strongly is the one aimed at the big man who is agile enough—and has the height—to guide teammates' errant shots into the basket, a maneuver at which Russell excelled. Next year officials will be forced to decide on the spot whether tip-in baskets originated as a pass or a wild shot.

"It's a very, very infantile way of trying to destroy or neutralize a physical advantage without chopping off a tall man's legs," said Woolpert. "I wasn't at the rules committee meeting, but if I had been I'd have said the same thing.

"Russell is the only man I ever saw who did those guide-in shots effectively, and how often does a guy like Bill come along? I think it's absurd and I have no axe to grind, with Russell all finished with college ball.

"As far as I'm concerned it's imposing another burden on already overworked officials who'll have to determine what constitutes a pass or a missed shot. Maybe it'll be crystal clear, but I'm a little dubious."

Woolpert said he had two solutions to the problem of handling a big man capable of guiding in shots.

"The first one is, don't schedule his team," Woolpert said, grinning. "The second is, if you have to schedule them, work up a defense aimed at cutting down his effectiveness.

"Of course, if it doesn't work, you're going to be beaten, but like I said a guy like Bill doesn't come along very often so you've got a chance."

Phog Allen May Get Reply to Request

LAWRENCE, Kan., (AP) — Phog Allen, who has been in the basketball coaching business almost half a century, can expect an early reply to his request for one more season as head man of the University of Kansas Jayhawks.

The University's athletic board meets tonight to make recommendations on the basketball coaching situation.

Allen has passed the mandatory retirement age of 70.

Recommendations of the athletic board will be passed on to the board of regents.

If Allen is not retained, reliable reports are that Dick Harp, Allen's assistant the past several years, will be elevated to the head job.

Indians' Boss Won'tConcede To the Yanks

By BOB MYERS

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is not conceding the American League pennant to the Yankees or anyone else.

He just happens to believe that the Cleveland baseball club is an improved one over the 1955 team that finished only three games behind New York.

Lopez was emphatic as he reviewed reports that almost everyone has already surrendered to the Yankees.

"I don't feel that way at all," he exclaimed. "I doubt whether Marty Marion or Higgins feel that way either."

He referred, of course, to the White Sox pilot and Pinky Higgins of the Boston Red Sox, who finished third and fourth behind him last year.

"And maybe the Yankees aren't so sure," he volunteered. "I read in the papers they are looking for a right-hand pitcher."

Lopez, it might be noted here, isn't just about to part with any of his right-handers, of which he happens to have three, if not five, of the best in the business.

They would be Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn, plus a fellow named Bob Feller, who should not be counted out, and still another, Sal (The Barber) Maglie, one of the craftiest, smartest in the game. To these, naturally, add lefty Herb Score.

Switching from the pitching prospects, Lopez said:

"Look at it this way. Bob Avila isn't going to drop 70 points in his batting average. Al Rosen isn't going to drop 60——."

Lopez referred to the disappointing .272 Avila batted last year in comparison to the .341 of 1954, and Rosen's .244 as against .300 the year before.

Most experts with the club agree the deals with the Chicago White Sox, which brought Cleveland outfielder Jim Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel, will be of benefit, despite the loss in the negotiations of their best long ball hitter, Larry Doby.

This remains to be proved.

1956 Season's First Feud Is Between Jones and Newcombe

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The 1956 season's first full-scale feud was in the making today with a possible climax promised for the April 17 National League opener between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Phillies third baseman Willie Jones, conked on the head by one of Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe's fast balls, said yesterday the Dodger ace "deliberately threw at me.".

Newcombe, known at times to have trouble controlling his temper, calmly denied throwing a deliberate bean ball in an exhibition between the two teams here Tuesday.

"I'm very sorry he thinks that," the big right-hander said. "I tried to pitch inside and the ball got away from me. I didn't try to hit him. I don't pitch at anybody. I'm very sorry he feels that way."

Jones, out of bed but still held in the hospital, said, "That guy deliberately threw at me. He did it my first time up." Jones got a walk in a previous appearance against Newcombe.

Jones sid that Newcombe throws "close enough to make me move out. He does it all during the regular season."

Dr. Raymond Lockwood, the Phillies club physician, said X-rays showed no fracture but that he wasn't ruling this out yet. He said Jones had suffered a perforated eardrum but the bleeding from the ear has stopped.

The largest crowd ever to see a horse race in Florida was the 42,366 at the 1956 running of the Widener Handicap at Hialeah.

Odd One Out

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Shelley Ivester at the Southern Bank and Trust Company riffled through a pile of one dollar bills and turned one around. Then she went through again and turned one around. On a third try she still found one out of order. She tried twice more and the same thing happened.

The bill seemed perfectly normal, except that if you turned the stack over there was always one upside down.

Clifton Y. Green of the Federal Reserve Bank said in 30 years he had seen only a few such bills. The Federal Bureau of Printing and Engraving had reversed a sheet. Green said the bill was worth a dollar — in fact, some collectors pay more.

Mrs. Ivester became a collector herself, substituting one of her own bills for the odd one.

Several Cities Support Boycott On 'Prayer Day'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A number of communities across the nation took part yesterday in "National Deliverance Day of Prayer" in support of Negroes boycotting the bus lines of Montgomery, Ala.

The day of prayer, by Negroes and white sympathizers, was organized by Rep. Adam Clayton Powel (D-NY) and by clergymen in local areas scattered throughout the country.

There was no estimate of the number taking part.

A crowd of 5,000 turned out in New York City to hear Powell suggest that clergymen hold their own conference on racial issues if President Eisenhower does not call one.

The Negro congressman, who is pastor of Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist Church, suggested "massive passive resistance" led by clergy "to be used only when absolutely necessary" in combatting racial bias.

In Hartford, Conn., Roman Catholic Archbishop Henry J. O'Brien told a prayer day meeting:

It must be remembered that the causes of racial tensions and conflicts are to be found within all men, and no one group of people or section of the country is solely guilty or guiltless."

Grace Kelly Is Given Old-Fashioned Shower

NEW YORK (AP)—Grace Kelly, preparing for the pomp and ceremony of her marriage next month to Prince Rainier III of Monaco, was given an old-fashioned bridal shower yesterday by her girl friends.

The film star showed up at an upper East Side apartment with her mother, sister, sister-in-law and several other folks from Philadelphia.

Shower presents included quite a bit of lingerie, a beach hat, a fancy belt and a cake with tiny umbrellas.

Oscar Winner Doesn't Want Star Routine

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ernest Borgnine, suddenly a big star as the result of winning an Oscar, refuses to act like one.

The actor lives with his wife Rhoda, her mother and his daughter Nancy, 3, in a tract house in a middle-class neighborhood of Van Nuys. He paid $23,500 for the seven-room, San Fernando Valley home. Although he can now afford it, he scoffed at the suggestion of moving to swanky Bel-Air.

"I don't like hills; that's why I moved out here," he laughed. "Besides, we just got this place last summer. I'm not moving anywhere."

When he isn't working, he lives the same as any Valleyite. He mows the lawn and cares for his rose bushes. His wife recently gave him some golf clubs and he plays an occasional round at the public courses.

At night he can be found in front of the T

Nehru Delivers Another Attack On SEATO Pact

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru delivered another bitter indictment of the Baghdad and SEATO pacts today, charging they "pushed the world in the wrong direction" and "blocked right tendencies" working for peace.

In one of his sharpest attacks on Western military alliances, Nehru told Parliament they represent "a wrong, dangerous and harmful approach" to international problems.

He devoted more than half his 90 - minute speech to India's dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir, the Himalayan state which both have claimed since they won independence from Britain.

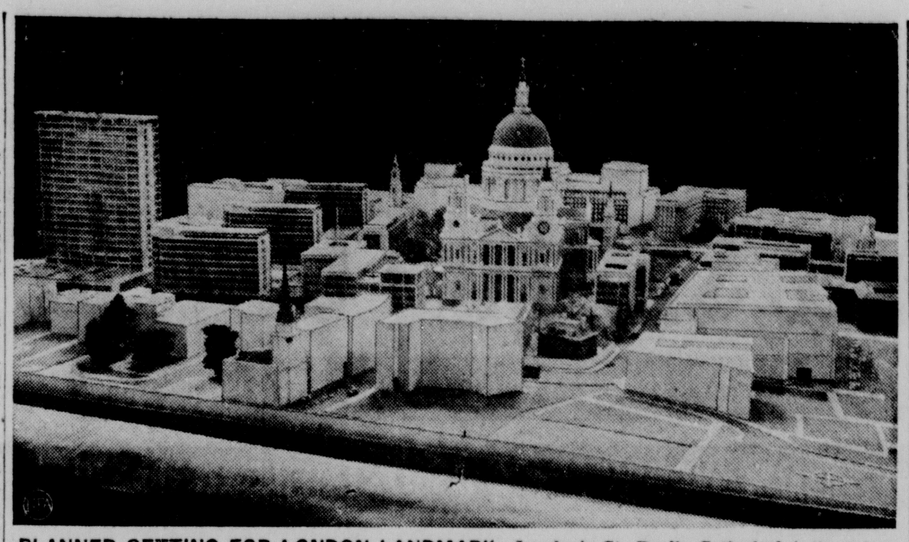

The SEATO meeting last month in Karachi urged settlement of the dispute by a plebiscite among the people of Kashmir as recommended by the United Nations. Nehru's government has resisted the proposal of a popular vote. Today Nehru seemed to move farther than ever from the plebiscite idea.

First Step Was a Lulu

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—W. H. Darnell of Miami has sued a service station owner for $20,089.

His petition filed yesterday in District Court seeks damages for injuries he said he received when he stepped from his car and landed on his head.

He said he did not know the car had been elevated on a grease rack.

PLANNED SETTING FOR LONDON LANDMARK—London's St. Paul's Cathedral is to get a new setting. The area surrounding it, almost completely demolished during the war, is to be rebuilt in the style shown in above model. The new style was planned to complement the cathedral, which was designed by Sir Christopher Wren. Architect for the redevelopment is Sir William Holford. Buildings at left are offices which will rise over a new shopping center.

Doctors Seeking Cause Of Multiple Sclerosis

When I was a medical student multiple sclerosis was considered a rather rare disease. When I studied in England and Germany a couple of years later multiple sclerosis was rather common in those countries. Now all signs indicate that it is by no means rare on the North American continent.

Why this change—if it is a real one—no one really knows. Whatever the answer it is believed that there are around 100,000 in the United States alone who are afflicted with this serious disease of the nervous system.

The cause of multiple sclerosis is still not known but it is encouraging to report that largely through the efforts of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 270 Park Avenue, New York 17, New York strenuous efforts are being made to learn more of the cause or causes and to develop better methods of treatment.

One interesting study recently launched, and the results of which have not yet been reported, deals with multiple sclerosis in twins. Perhaps this or some other line of clinical or laboratory research will ultimately bring out information of the utmost value.

The diagnosis of multiple sclerosis is not always simple and must be made by a skilled physician. No one should jump to the conclusion that he or she has the disease merely because they have some of the symptoms which may occur in multiple sclerosis.

The disease attacks several parts of the nervous system and it is for this reason called "multiple." The symptoms vary depending on what parts of the nervous system are involved. Since the location varies there are no completely typical symptoms, though seeing double, a trembling or tremor when trying to pick up some object, and a gait which looks somewhat like that of a drunken person are probably the most common. One or all of these may be absent.

Many theories have been suggested about its cause but none of them have held water so far. Many treatments have been tried including artifical fever the use of drugs to delay blood coagulation, attempts to desensitize to allergies, vaccines and many others. Apparently long rest is the best form of treatment during the acute stage of multiple sclerosis.

The disease tends to go through periods of great improvement. If these good periods can be lengthened and the bad ones shortened, it is a good sign.

Brown Speaks At Democrat Ward Meeting

The Third Ward Democratic meeting was held Wednesday night at Washington School with William F. Brown as principal speaker.

"The growing attendance and enthusiasm at our Ward meetings is evidence of the interest and approval of the citizens of Sedalia in the progress made these past two years. It is most important," Brown said, "That this progress be continued."

"One of the basic parts of the 1954 pledge to the people of Sedalia was sound, long range planning. The progress we have made in meeting the needs of a growing Sedalia results from a soundly planned program."

"Through public participation and the advice of specialists in city planning, a new zoning law was passed by the City Council. Orderly planned growth of Sedalia is assured. Home owners are protected and provision is made for the expansion of our business and industrial facilities.

Brown continued, "A full report and definite recommendation on our fire protection needs is now being prepared by Hare and Hare, city planning engineers. The fire insurance underwriters will be asked for their specific recommendations in the location of a new fire station. Every effort has been and is being made in the planning of additional fire protection so as to insure the lowest possible fire insurance premiums."

"Throughout the city, there are storm water drainage problems," Brown continued. "Each ward has its own particular areas that are flooded in heavy rains. As a part of the program of sound planning to meet these needs, a firm of engineers has been employed to survey and study the entire city."

"In addition, the older sections of our sanitary sewer system are also being surveyed, to make certain they are adequate to meet present demands. The report on our storm water drainage and sanitary sewer needs will be ready by early June."

"These are all evidences," Brown said, "of the high quality of the leadership of our Democratic candidates. These men have all had a part in making our progress and growth possible. We must make certain this growth continues in a well planned and orderly fashion."

"Our Democratic candidates have proven by their record that capable and experienced repsesentatives meet the demands of good government."

All the candidates in the coming election were introduced and spoke briefly.

Mayor Julian H. Bagby spoke briefly on the accomplishments during the past two years.

Suicidal Insurance

TOKYO (AP) — Officials are worried about the effects of the new compulsory auto liability insurance here.

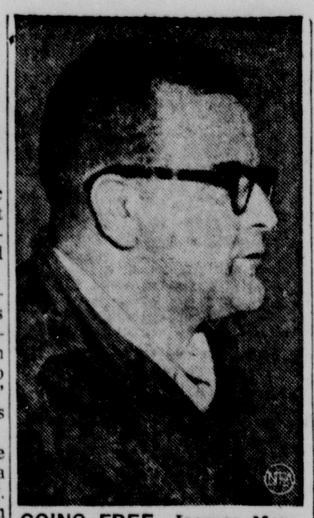

What worries officials is that survivors of anyone killed in a car accident automatically get 300,000 yen without even going to court.

Bear Hunt —Navy Style

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Across the crackling wastes of an arctic Navy operation area the USS Rushmore messaged: "Desire daily polar bear report at your earliest convenience."

The USS Lindenwald, a landing ship, dock, like the Rushmore, replied: "Herded bear to within 50 feet of well several times but bear proved more agile than LCVP (landing craft, vehicle-personnel.)"

Later the Rushmore pursued the matter further: "Re polar bear report, please keep us advised all bear episodes; odds quoted two to one on bear with few takers."

Crew members of the Lindenwald related the bear story on their return from the far north unloading operation. It seems an inquisitive polar bear nosed up to a porthole of a small craft, a cook sounded the tally-ho and landing craft churned out of the well deck of the LSD in pursuit of the bear.

High Wind Swamps Boat; Riders Escape

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — An outboard motorboat was swamped in high wind on Alton Lake and blown against a lock wall of the Alton Dam yesterday, but both men in the boat scrambled to safety.

Ralph Wideman, 71, of Overland, Mo., and his son, George, 42, of St. John, Mo., launched the boat on the Missouri side of the river.

Its motor drowned out, the craft drifted toward the dam for a time before it was blown against the lock wall. It was towed inside the lock by lock employes.

He invites audience participation and gets some.

His topic may be "Bohemians" (You can spot them by costumes consisting of one earring, sandals and acne) or "Man-Made Satellites" (Will the Moon think it is being followed and develop paranoia?) Or he may try "Why a Dentist's Jacket Buttons on the Side" or "Houseflies—Can They Be Trained to Do Housework?"

He advises everybody to set aside 20 minutes a day for "individual laughing."

Do it in a group if possible, he says, but "if this cannot be arranged, try laughing into a mirror."

St. Louis Revenue Will Be Less Because 'Somebody' Slipped

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Comptroller Milton Carpenter says because "somebody" slipped up, the city's anticipated revenue for the coming fiscal year will be $820,000 less than originally believed.

Carpenter said yesterday the unnamed person forgot that tax rates next year will not include a 4-cent sewer tax rate. The metropolitan sewer district collects the sewer taxes now.

This is the main reason why expected revenues of around $53,500,000 are now figured at $52,680,000. This will mean more paring of requests by department heads, who had asked for $58,472,000.

All extension club members and friends are invited.

Home Agent's Visit to Extension Clubs

During the month of Marh I have had the pleasure of visiting the following clubs: Camp Branch, Sunnyside, Dresden, Manila, Flat Creek and Smithton.

The educational programs planned and carried out by these groups reflect very good planning, interest and cooperation on the part of the officers and project chairman and members.

Check Canning and Freezing Equipment

Now is the time to check your food preservation equipment. The pressure canner guage should be tested if it has not been checked within the past three years. Also the safety valve is a very important part of your canner. Both may be checked at the extension office by bringing in both the lid and the kettle.

Vitamin C Foods: A Tossed Salad

Use any salad greens. Wash them thoroughly, lifting greens out of wash water so as to leave sand and dirt behind. A very pretty salad can be made of white cabbage, red cabbage, endive or spinach greens, with a few slices of onions and served with French dressing.

Cut the cabbage into pieces that are easily placed in the mouth. Break the washed spinach or the endive into bite size pieces, cut the onion very fine or in large rings. Toss together with French dressing, until every piece is coated with dressing, using wooden, plastic or silver forks. Salad dressing should not leak and stand in the bottom of a bowl.

Tomato Flower Salad

6 chilled tomatoes
Water cress, lettuce or other salad greens
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped cucumber
1 tbsp. minced onion
1 tbsp. chopped green pepper
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
2 tbsp. mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing
1 tsp. sait--pepper

Peel and cut stem ends from tomatoes. Cut tomatoes four times from the top almost through the bottom, to form eight attached "petals." Spread petals apart on the salad greens. Combine other ingredients, and put filling into centers of the "flowers." Chill (one half cup of cottage cheese may be used in place of the eggs). For a meat filling: combine one cup diced cooked meat, one cup diced cooked potatoes, one tablespoon minced onion, and two tablespoons chopped green pepper. Add salt, pepper, and dressing as above.

Chinchilla Rescue

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Firemen who have rescued babies, young ladies, canaries and all sorts of pets, have added chinchillas.

The D. E. Perkins family explained that a $5,000 batch of the little South American rodents—valuable for fur—were in a rock wool-lined compartment in their burning garage. With axes firemen cut through into the air conditioned chamber and saved them.

Buena Vista Ladies Have Grand Time Trying on Easter Hats

Several Church Groups Pick Up Idea of Mrs. Green, Superintendent, and Get to Work Making Different Hats; Group Representatives Take the Hats to Buena Vista and the Result Is One Big Mirror Party

(Democrat-Capital Photos)

SECTION TWO

MADAM, IT FITS PERFECTLY!—This was the most used mirror in Pettis County last Sunday when the ladies started trying on hats brought there by several church groups. Here the elegance of such a bonnet is being extolled by Mrs. W. C. Cain.

WHAT A PARTY IT WAS!—All 76 Easter hats were laid out on the tables and the ladies were able to try on any they liked. At left, Mrs. Otis Waller helps arrange an attractive bonnet on a pleased "customer." At center, the ladies hardly know which hat to try on first, so Mrs. Ruth Wasson, left, makes a few helpful suggestions. At right, Mrs. W. J. Korando assists a lover of flowers.

HOW DO YOU LIKE IT?—Well, we can tell you it looks grand, especially since it happens to be a bright red that suits the bright occasion to a T.

Buena Vista Becomes Millinery Shop Temporarily—

They Enjoy Each Woman's Dream--Having Selection of 76 Creations to Choose From

To women an Easter bonnet is an important thing. Even if they have no place to wear them or wear them only on Easter Sunday and go bareheaded the rest of the year, even if they get out last year's hat and dust it off. There is something about the shine of the straw, the gay colors, the bunches of flowers that gives a woman a tingling feeling and she has an urge to try one after another on until she finds just the right one.

This was what happened Friday afternoon when two young women from the First Christian Church and two from the First Baptist Church who had carried through on the idea of Mrs. M. E. Green, superintendent of Buena Vista, that the women there might be happy to have Easter bonnets to wear to the little chapel on Easter Sunday.

The living room was turned into a millinery store with two big tables in the center of the floor and a dressing table with a large mirror where they could sit and try on hats. The tables were piled high with hats because, when the church women were told there were 26 women at Buena Vista, they all tried to get more than 26 hats so that the women at the home migh have a selection. Neither knew the other groups were working on the project until, at the last and when they all got there with the hats contributed by their different Sunday School classes, there were 36 hats from one church and 40 from the other. That made 76 hats for the 26 women to select an Easter bonnet from.

And where were the women all this time? They were back in their rooms putting on the best clothes and dolling up for an Easter party—and it really was an Easter party because it ended up with ice cream and cake. There were even bright napkins on which were bunnies and Easter eggs.

So there was a flurry in the living room getting the hats ready which ranged from a very tiny green one to a very large cartwheel red one. To prove out the theory that spring hats are a delight to ladies of all ages, a very little lady, two-year-old Mary Lisa Hunter, granddaughter of Mrs. Green, was like Alice in wonderland. All those pretty hats and Mary Lisa spied the one with the big red cartwheel, pulled it off the table and put it on. The cartwheel was wider than Mary Lisa was tall, but she didn't think it was a bit too big. Then she tried on others that appealed to her until the women of the home came in. They hadn't been told a thing about the hats. It was a big surprise and some of them were so pleased and immediately entered into the spirit of the event, while others sat down with the attitude that they didn't want to try on the hats.

The first one to start off the show was in a purple dress and of course reached for a lavender hat that had purple trimming, but it was too small. She looked the table over and found one with several different colors of straw woven together. It looked nice on her so she kept it.

Then Miss Anna Moore, about as big as a minute, but who has never lost the spark of fun that she always possessed, got up with, "I've got to find me an Easter bonnet." This she did, too, and went back and sat down with her perky little aqua felt on.

"I love this hat," one of the women said to one of the young women who had brought the hats. "How much is it?"

"It doesn't cost a thing," replied the young woman. "We brought these out to give them to you, and we are just happy if you have found something you like."

Still a few sat without hats while some of the others who already had found one hat they liked looked to see if they could find something they liked better.

One of them, like Mary Lisa, saw the big red cartwheel the first thing, and that was her hat. She didn't like to go up there and get it but she told Miss Roseanne Dugan, who was also there for the afternoon, that she liked that big red hat.

"Let's try it on," said Miss Dugan, going over to the table to get the red hat. She put it on the woman and it really looked nice. She was just the right size to wear a big hat, so all afternoon she went around proudly wearing her red hat.

Around the room went Mrs. Green, Mrs. Ruth Wasson and Mrs. W. C. Cain from the Friendly Home class of the First Christian Church, Mrs. Jack Korando from the TEL class and Mrs. O. M. Waller from the Gleaners class of the First Baptist Church, with several hats in their hands trying them on those who still sat timidly on the sofas or chairs watching. "That looks nice," someone would say, and the woman would smile. Even if she had thought she didn't want one, she found she did and would take a peek at herself in the hand mirror. If she didn't like that one they would try another one until she did find one.

One little woman in a dark blue dress was having a real time shopping for the hat that looked best on her. She would put one on and asked different people what they thought about it. "Don't tell me it looks good if it doesn't," she would say. "I want something that is becoming."

"Really," said Miss Dugan, "they all look good on you, and I'm not kidding," and they did. The little black lacy hat, the pink felt, the dark blue — everything she tried on she looked nice and she was in the predicament women often are in when they try on hats in the millinery store—she didn't know which one she wanted.

It will be a nice Easter parade when they all dress up and put on their hats to go to the services in their little chapel on Easter afternoon—for there'll be no lovelier ladies than in this Easter parade.

A phonograph needle travels half a mile in playing one side of a 12-inch phonograph record.

If you wear a hat six times and get not one compliment, you've made a fashion error. Get rid of it!

The keynote to good dressing is still simplicity. If you wear earrings and bracelet, leave the necklace at home.

Jaycees Attend Tri-City Meet At Whiteman AFB

Jaycees from Sedalia, Warrensburg and Windsor attended a joint meeting at the Whiteman Air Force Base Monday evening. A tour was conducted and dinner was served to approximately 100 members from the three cities at the officers' club.

Those that went on a tour of the flight line witnessed an unscheduled event — an emergency landing of a KC-97 tanker plane. The plane had taken off just a few minutes before and apparently developed engine trouble. It landed without incident.

The Jaycees on the tour were shown the engine maintenance section and a KC-97 tanker plane, where crew members explained their various duties.

Following the dinner at 7 p. m. color slides were shown depicting the mission of the Strategic Air Command its accomplishments in its ten year history. Narrator for the program was Captain Donald Patterson of the air base. Other officers joined the Jaycees at dinner and answered questions concerning the base and planes.

John McMeekin, president of the Warrensburg Jaycees, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening and introduced the other club presidents, Jim Askren, Sedalia, who will take office April 12, and Pat Womble, Windsor. Later in the evening each person introduced himself and gave his home town.

Railroad Train Gets A Traffic Ticket

CONCORD, Mass. (AP)—A railroad train was tagged for blocking traffic yesterday. Police Chief Robert E. Kelley ordered the traffic ticket after getting complaints that Boston & Maine trains were across a town highway for as long as 15 minutes. There's a law which sets a 5 minute limit on stopping across intersections.

Boy Scouts Beat Marine Corps Vets At Marksmanship

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Red-faced Marine veterans of World War II and Korea fumbled for excuses today as a Boy Scout troop beat them at their own game—marksmanship.

A .22 caliber rifle match was held at the Navy and Marine Corps Reserve training center here between a Marine Corps volunteer training unit and a group of explorer scouts.

The Marines blamed the 12 point difference in total score on the absence of some of their top shooters.

No one would divulge the actual score.

Glass Eye Unnerves Municipal Judge

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Municipal Court Judge James Demopolos was subjected to an eye-popping experience.

"He staggered, his speech was incoherent and his eyes bloodshot," a patrolman said in citing evidence against a defendant charged with drunk driving.

The defendant then insisted on a private conference with the judge. In the judge's chamber, the defendant disengaged a glass eye.

"I just want you to know that this glass eye is made with bloodshot streaks in it and that it wasn't my real eye," he said.

The judge, a bit unnerved, postponed a decision in the case.

Actor Substitutes For Congressman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor John Wayne served as stand-in for a congressman yesterday. He went to the registrar of voters office and filed nominating papers for Rep. Donald Jackson (R-Calif). Wayne said he and Jackson are long-time personal friends.

Pecan Pie Can Be Frozen and Stored

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What's new about Pecan Pie? Plenty! Not, mind you, about the recipe. It's one of the versions cooks have been using for years. But here's a last-minute bulletin: good old Pecan Pie can be baked at your convenience, then stored in the home freezer.

Company coming? Defrost the pie in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes and it's ready to serve. The devastatingly rich filling will give untold satisfaction to fans of sweet desserts.

But wait a minute, there is something a little different about the making of this pie. The crust is the comparatively new salad-oil pastry.

You'll notice our pecan-filling recipe calls for either whole or chopped pecans .The flavor will be much the same, whichever you choose, but there's easier cutting ahead with the chopped nuts. On the other hand, the whole nuts look more attractive than the chopped. Taste your nuts before you add them to the pie to make sure they are fresh—a frozen pie is only as good as the quality of its ingredients.

MODERN TREATMEN T for old-fashioned pie.

PECAN PIE

Ingredients: 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1 teaspoon vanilla, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 cup unsalted pecans (whole or chopped), 1 unbaked 9-inch Pat-down Pastry Shell.

Method: Beat eggs slightly; add sugar, corn syrup, melted butter, vanilla and salt and stir just until blended. Stir in pecans. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer or until firm around the edge. The center may not be quite firm.

Note: Salted pecans may be used; in this case omit the salt in the pie filling recipe.

PAT-DOWN PASTRY SHELL

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons cold milk.

Method: Sift flour, sugar and salt into 9-inch pie plate. Mix salad oil and milk in measuring cup. Whip with a fork and pour all at once over flour mixture. Mix with fork until flour is completely dampened. Press evenly and firmly with fingers, lining bottom of pan; then press dough up to line sides and partly cover rim. Be sure dough is pressed to uniform thickness. To flute, pinch dough lightly with fingers. Do not use a high fluted edge.

FREEZER DIRECTIONS FOR PECAN PIE

Cool baked Pecan Pie; wrap suitably for freezer. Place in freezer as long as 1 month.) To defrost, remove pie from freezer and unwrap. Place in unheated oven. Turn oven control to moderate (350 degrees); heat pie 15 minutes. Cool a few minutes and serve warm or let stand until cold before serving.

Vaccination Is Important In Poultry

By Leonard A. Voss
MU Extension Poultry Specialist

A good vaccination program is an important part of sound poultry management. It may cost up to $2 to bring a pullet to production age. There is a heavy financial loss if infectious bronchitis, Newcastle, or fowl pox hit during the laying season. There is a production loss for a month or more and there may be some death loss.

The School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Missouri recommends the use of vaccination to control Newcastle, bronchitis, and fowl pox. The recommendations include the use of intra-nasal Newcastle vaccine for day old chicks. A drop of vaccine is placed on the nostril or eye of the chick. This will give good protection for ten to 12 weeks under most conditions.

The mass methods of vaccination for Newcastle disease such as using dust, water or spray give shorter protection and manufacturers' recommendations usually include revaccination. With the smaller number of chicks handled for laying flock replacements as compared to broiler production, the added protection given from the intra-nasal type of vaccine more than justifies the extra labor involved.

Fowl pox can cause considerable trouble in laying flocks so vaccinate birds at eight to ten weeks of age. The fowl pox vaccination gives lifetime immunity. Pigeon pox vaccine which gives only short immunity should not be used.

The feather follicle method is recommended for vaccinating for fowl pox. A few feathers are plucked from the thigh and a camels hair brush or cotton swab is used to brush some of the vaccine into the follicle.

Veterinarians have observed a seven year cycle in fowl pox cases. If past history repeats, the prevalence of fowl pox may be at its peak this year.

At ten to 12 weeks, or about two weeks after the fowl pox vaccination has been given, the pullets can be vaccinated for bronchitis. The intra-nasal type of vaccine should be used.

At the same time the birds should be vaccinated again for Newcastle disease, using the wing-web vaccine. This vaccination gets its name from the method of administering the vaccine. A special needle in the web of the wing. This vaccis dipped in the vaccine, stabbed cination should give protection to the flock through the normal time birds are kept for layers.

Be sure to follow the directions on the package of vaccine.

There are some problems connected in getting started with the vaccination program. There is some danger of transmitting these diseases to a laying flock that has not been vaccinated. This is especially true of fowl pox, bronchitis, and Newcastle wing-web vaccine.

Program Revision

ST. LOUIS (AP) — About 900 patrons awaited the performance of the suburban Webster Groves community concert series, but where was Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera?

Why, she was at her home in Arlington, Va., and had a contract to prove she had signed for a later date. But what about violinist Michael Rabin, billed on the programs for the date claimed by the singer? A further check of the contracts showed he actually had signed for an even later date.

The patrons were sent home — and the programs revised.

New Stamp Collector Club Is Organized For Sedalia Adults

A stamp club has been organized for any Sedalians who might be interested in collecting stamps.

The organization is known as the Sedalia Stamp Club and meets the fourth Monday of every month in the Sedalia Public Library. The stamp club that was disbanded a few years ago was known by the same name.

According to an announcement by Dr. Stanley Fisher, president of the new group, they plan to resume sponsorship of some of the displays and activities that the old group had and to hold stamp auctions and trading sessions. One of the activities they hope to sponsor is a junior organization.

Other officers of the club are A. A. Ferguson, vice-president; and A. H. Bratten, secretary and treasurer.

Blow to Speed?

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—When two state legislators introduced a novel proposal to cut the auto accident rate, their colleagues called it a sound idea.

They proposed that all cars be equipped with a device to sound a car's horn after it reaches the 70-mile-an-hour mark. The horn would keep on blasting until the car slowed down.

There were 1,488,000 marriages in the United States in 1954.

U.S. accidental deaths declined from 96,000 in 1952 to 90,000 in 1954.

Sedalian Assigned To USS Forrestal

AN George W. Sands, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sands, 1418 East Seventh Street, is serving aboard the USS Forrestal aircraft carrier in the Caribbean Sea. Sands enlisted in the US Navy in May 1955.

Tennessee had 22,548 irrigated acres in 1954 compared with 1,012 in 1949.

There are more manufacturing jobs in New York City than in Philadelphia, Cleveland and Detroit combined.

How to Carve a Ham

1. Place with Shank end to right or carver and thick meaty portion on far side of platter. Cut a few slices from thin side.

2. Turn roast so it rests on surface you've just cut. Cut small wedge from base near shank end.

3. Cut slices down to bone. Then cut parallel to bone to release the slices. Cut enough slices for all plates before serving.

Stories of Easter—7

Mary-Lost Son to Save World

("For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son. . ." Someone else also lost a son. This, seventh of an Easter series, is about that person.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Newsfeatures

He said He had to do it—He said it was necessary—He said He had to go the last, terrible mile—He said He had to die as a sign to the whole world—but He was her son!

And He was dead.

And Mary's heart was broken.

Whatever the great cause He served, whatever the reason and purpose of His death, whatever the lesson He left to mankind, He was gone, and Mary had lost her son. To her, that was the one, awful reality.

What a price to pay, oh Lord, for having such a son. What a bitter lot to accept, what a loss to endure! A mother is not made to be heroic about her son's death.

In Jesus' final hours, Mary had stood beneath the cross with a cluster of His women followers, watching her son slowly die, her own flesh and blood writhing in pain, her own body, slowly, cruelly, dying.

Near the end, He had turned to her, in a kind of regretful farewell, as if to say He realized His role had been difficult for her: "Behold, thy son!" He had brought her to this, He was saying, she had to take it.

Then His pain-fraught eyes had shifted to John, the only one of His apostles who had braved the hazard of appearing at the scene, and said: "Behold, thy mother!" Strange how He always linked nonkinsmen in one family.

So now, it was over, and John, in whose care her son had left her, was taking her back to the city, trying to console her, this tragic, broken widow, her husband dead some years, and now her son dead, crucified.

A man's death is just death to him, but it's a thousand deaths to his mother.

Being the mother of Jesus had been a trying responsibility—thrilling, yet at times bewildering—a joy, but also full of distress. As a bride-to-be, how perplexedly—but readily—she had accepted her part.

Overcome with wonder at word her child would be of God, she had gone to the hill country to stay a while with an elderly cousin, Elizabeth, who reassured her, "Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb."

How ecstatic Mary had been that God had picked her, a lowly peasant girl, as his handmaiden. It staggers the pretensions of the mighty, she had said. "My soul doth magnify the Lord. . . All generations shall call me blessed."

She remembered all the secret hopes and dreams that pounded in her chest that day in the Bethlehem stable.

Then the trouble had begun—the flight to Egypt from King Herod's mad vengeance, and after his death, their return to Nazareth.

There, all went well — for a while. The boy grew in health and vigor, quick-minded, alert, schooled in the synagogue, learning carpentry in Joseph's shop.

The first shock came on a trip to Jerusalem for Passover. On the way home with relatives, the boy was missed. It took three days to find Him—back at the temple, talking with learned doctors and scholars.

Mary had scolded Him. "Son, why hast Thou dealt thus with us? Thy father and I have sought Thee, sorrowing. But the boy had an odd streak of independence: "Why seek me? Know ye not I must be about my Father's business?"

Baffled, the parents hustled Him home. Through His youthful years, they kept careful supervision over Him. But He was different, somehow. He found favor with people—everyone liked Him—and yet. . .

Then when He was about 30, He had abandoned His tools, and gone into the desert seeking that prophet—"the Baptist." Ever afterward, He was not the same—He seemed absorbed with some unique missionary urge.

It had been up setting when He stayed alone in the desert for 40 days without food, and when He returned, neighbors and friends began to talk about his peculiar behavior — his non-conformist ideas.

HIS MOTHER, MARY

A personality study by Guy Rowe.

Once, a whole group of them had gone to stop Him, saying the young carpenter was beside Himself with wild talk about "all sins shall be forgiven the sons of men." But He ignored them, saying:

"A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and among his own kin and in his own house."

Then, once as He was speaking at the synagogue, His mother and brothers had gone to call Him out, but He wouldn't be bothered, insisting on that notion of His that His listeners were His real family.

"Whosoever shall do the will of God," He had said, "the same is My brother and My sister and My mother."

Mary felt left out at times, and hurt. A quiet, self-effacing, pious woman, she was not inclined to her son's habit of pricking custom. But she bore it all, loving Him, believing in Him.

He mingled with all sorts of questionable people—outcasts, sinners, tax-grabbing publicans, beggars, bell-necked lepers, blind men and harlots, with no thought of what people would say, or think. The sick need the physician, He said, not the well.

She could only have faith in Him—that all would turn out for the best. Once, at a wedding in Cana, she had worriedly whispered to Him that the hosts had no wine.

Don't fret, He had said, it's not important. So she had just left it up to Him, telling the servants, "Whatever He saith unto you, do it!" She was always sure He could handle it. And He did. The waterpots brimmed with wine.

As He died, all the tender, protective love of motherhood swelled helplessly in Mary.

She felt she could not stand it, this awful end, this crushing, final blow. But she did. No doubt, like most mothers, she wished she could have taken His place there on the cross. But she couldn't.

She had to yield to her own cross.

Jesus had to suffer for men's sins, to show God cared for them so much He sacrificed His own son, a ransom for many. Mary could comfort herself, in the ensuing years before she died, knowing that she had shared in that sacrifice, in paying that ransom, because she, too, had given her Son.

Next: Mary Magdalene.

Sedalian's Questions Answered on Monitor

Miss Mary Helen Mayer, 240 South Vermont, sent in several questions to NBC Monitor about three weeks ago, which were answered by Irvin R. Levine, the Monitor Moscow correspondent over the weekend.

Miss Mayer had asked if the reason visitors to Russia come home reporting that the churches are filled with worshippers is not because there are only a few churches for the large city of Moscow and Levine agreed. She also asked if new churches are being built in Russia to accommodate the people, and he reported that no new churches are being built.

Table Snarles Traffic

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Two cars and a dining room table collided and two people went to a hospital. Richard A. Fawcett, Salem, told state police he jammed on his brakes when he came upon the table on the highway. His car spun around and crashed into a car going in the opposite direction.

The occupants of the other car, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Borchers, were hospitalized. The table, which police said apparently was lost by a moving van, was demolished.

Best-Hatted Women Like Flower Styles

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

America's 10 best-hatted women, as chosen by New York millinery designers, will set the pace for the rest of the country by wearing, almost unanimously, big flowered hats in the Easter parade.

Heading the hatters' list, as usual, is Mamie Eisenhower, named by Sally Victor, because "her hats are an integral part of a smartly costumed whole, expressing her exuberant personality with quiet good taste."

The First Lady has ordered a number of gay flower hats for spring, proving that she anticipates the national preference.

Others in the best-hatted list are as follows:

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, named by Mr. John because "she is one of the few women I know who hasn't got a nervous wardrobe."

Grace Kelly, named by Robert Dudley because "she brings a fragile womanly appeal to the new hats reminiscent of the turn of the century . . . and because, being Irish, she knows that a beautiful hat can beat the Irish themselves at flattery."

Rise Stevens, opera star, chosen by Walter Florell because "she hits a high note in hats as confidently as in an aria."

Mrs. Francis T. Hunter, the former Continental film star Lizette Verea, chosen by Gustavo.

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr., named by John Frederics; Dorothy Kilgallen, named by Lilly Dache; concert soprano Mary Bothwell, named by Margaret Cody; Heddy Hopper, named by Laddie Northridge; Arlene Francis, named by Emme.

This Beaver Intends To Stay In One Spot

MACON (AP)—Beaver may come and beaver may go, but this colony evidently intends to stay.

Leonard R. Krawl, who lives west of Atlanta, has been having "beaver trouble." Having tried to remove their dam several times and finding that the animals could repair the dam faster than he could tear it out, Krawl hit on an idea he thought was fool proof.

Taking an inch and a half pipe to the dam, he drove the tubing through the impoundment and let the water start treking out.

A day later Krawl returned, expecting to find the pool drained. To his astonishment, the pool was just as full as when he had left it.

The beaver had found a nice round corncob, stuck it in the end of the pipe and then had cemented it in with sticky clay.

Backing up Krawls' account is Paul Johnson, conservation agent for this area.

How to Use Your Decorated Eggs

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

No one would deny the young the pleasures of coloring hard-cooked eggs for Easter But how to use the eggs after they've seen their day of glory?

One way we like is to stuff them and serve them hot in a cream sauce enlivened with ham. The filling for these eggs is one we particularly approve of; it has just the right amount of mustard and other seasonings. The sauce is a fine one for a family because it's made with instant nonfat dry milk powder. All experts on keeping family food budgets in line agree that this product is an economical and nutritious one.

SERVE COLORED EGGS, after Easter, with a hot sauce.

HOT STUFFED EGGS

Ingredients: 6 hard-cooked eggs, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, pepper, 2 cups water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ cup (or more) finely diced cooked ham, 2 to 3 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons minced parsley.

Method: Shell eggs; cut in half lengthwise; remove yolks and mash. Add ⅛ teaspoon salt, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and a dash of pepper; mix well. Fill center of each egg half with egg-yolk mixture. Place in an 8-inch square baking pan. Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder and flour over the surface. Beat with a rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add ham, grated onion and ¼ teaspoon salt. Cook until thickened a little more. Pour sauce over deviled eggs; sprinkle with minced parsley. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated.

NEW COOK BOOKS

Grace Grosvenor Clark, author of "The Best Cookery in the Middle West" (Doubleday), says in her foreword: "My idea in writing this book was to share with all of you the recipes for good things I have found and improvised and the countless choice recipes friends have given me through the years. Many of them are just plain old-timers . . . many of them have just a little change or newness. . " Because Mrs. Clark has good taste and extensive experience in homemaking — she is household manager at Principia College — her cook book is well put together.

Whether she is cautioning you to examine your chicken carefully because "Nobody likes to come upon a piece of pinfeather or long whisker" or explaining that her recipe for Toffee Pie is "a very rich pie resembling slightly the Chess Pie," the comments with her recipes are pleasant to come upon. The subtitle of this cook book announces it "A collection of recipes as sound as the U.S.A." That's true.

It would be hard to find a more delightful special cooking guide than "The Omelette Book" by Narcissa Chamberlain (Knopf). Mrs. Chamberlain has lived in France with her husband — well-known etcher and photographer—and has done a goodly amount of culinary adventuring. Directions for cooking every possible sort of omelette are here — whether they stem from France, Spain, Italy, China or Russia. There are omelette recipes featuring seafood, poultry and game, meat, vegetables and cheese. There are also wonderful dessert omelettes. And of course there are directions for the sauces that help to make an omelette perfect. Charming black-and-white drawings by Hilary Knight and a fine type arrangement embellish Mrs. Chamberlain's book.

Now it's easy to keep the cookie jar filled with Brownies—the fudgiest Fudge, or Butterscotch for a delicious change

Duncan Hines says: "It's easy to understand why Brownies are America's favorites—they're half cake and half candy, and altogether delicious.

"I do hope you'll try both the Fudge and its twin, Blond Brownies . . . every bit as rich and delicious. We've perfected this mix for two reasons. First, everyone likes a change, when it's butterscotch! Second, there are many people who can't eat chocolate, much as they like it. Now we can all have our fill of Brownies!

"Both mixes are completely blended of the finest ingredients, ready for you to add water and a fresh egg (that gives them better texture and helps keep them fresh longer). And, of course, add whatever you like in the way of 'crunchiness'—nuts, coconut, dates or raisins. Incidentally, they're so easy to stir up you can turn the youngsters loose on these two mixes."

We Can Use Some Evangelism

Civilized people were horrified several months ago when five missionaries were killed by a "barbaric" Ecuadoran jungle tribe as they were on a mission to convert the Indians to Christianity. The ill-fated mission which had been attempted by airplane had a dramatic as well as morbid touch to it. Suggestions were made at the time for a punitive expedition against the blood-thirsty murderers.

Only casual reading is given and little emotion evidenced over many incidents in "civilized" society, reported in today's evening newspaper. For instance 24 injured by bombs in Guatemala during a parade, drag race teen agers arrested for over-running two girls by the side of the road, fourteen boys punished in court for a variety of violations including shooting out power line insulators which knocked out electric service for several hours in southern Florida, hoodlum who grinds broken beer bottles into the faces of his antagonists forfeits bond, New Orleans female "wolf pack" without provocation attacks males leaving them mutilated and bleeding, two attractive Ontario secretaries visiting in Miami charge two Minnesota men with attacking them on the Tamiami Trail, northern student in Florida Southern College shoots classmate through head after bragging he would do it.

Now two scientists are going to Ecuador to study the primitive, murderous Indians and to prove the five dead missionaries made a mistake by using an airplane. They think the Indians can be reached by a walking, psychological approach.

If it's worth trying in Ecuador perhaps the same medicine may be good for Americans whose moral tone could stand a bit of polish.

So we are pleased to hear Evangelist Billy Graham home from a foreign tour will appear on NBC radio programs beginning April 22. This announcement got front page position in the Miami Herald along with blood curdling reports of many phases of the way of life in these United States which need evangelistic treatment.

Drew Pearson Says—

Ike Seriously Considers Trip to India

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower took 50 minutes out the other day to discuss the idea of going on a good-will mission to India during the Democratic national convention next August.

He discussed the plan with evangelist Billy Graham, who had recently come back from India. And, judging by the President's eager questions, he has a lot more than a mere polite interest in the trip.

Because of the snowstorm, Ike was one day late in getting back to the White House from Gettysburg at the beginning of last week. This threw all his appointments out, and jammed up his schedule for Tuesday. Despite this, he kept Billy Graham about 30 minutes overtime talking to him about the trip to India.

The general idea they discussed was, first, that our sagging relations with India badly needed a trip by the President himself; second, that if he flew to India just as the Democrats were meeting in Chicago, it would take the spotlight away from them, also make it difficult for them to criticize him effectively.

The trip would also demonstrate the condition of his health.

Finally, he would fly on around the world, arriving from the Pacific in San Francisco just as the Republicans nominated him for a second term. He could time a triumphant arrival at the exact moment of his acceptance speech.

Ike seemed to like the idea immensely. He gave the impression that he might go ahead with it if his health was up to it this summer.

Note: As part of the Indian mission strategy, Prime Minister Nehru, who visits Washington in July, could invite the President to make a return visit, and the President, in a gesture to the Indian people, could accept immediately.

New Trust-Buster??

One bright light in an otherwise murky Ike-administration attitude toward little business has been Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general, in charge of the antitrust division. Barnes has done a good job.

In one or two cases he has had to trim his sails, such as dropping the criminal prosecution against Ike's close friend, Roy Roberts, publisher of The Kansas City Star. But in most cases, Barnes has been forthright in going after monopoly, and recently he brought a criminal indictment against Shell Oil in Boston for fixing retail prices.

However, Eisenhower is now doing to Barnes what President Roosevelt did to Thurman Arnold when he was in charge of the antitrust division. He is kicking Barnes upstairs to the Circuit Court of Appeals. So the big question is who will take his place.

Barnes has certain good men around him, including some holdover Democrats and some new Republicans. Among the latter is Robert Bicks, his legal assistant. However, the Justice Department grapevine has it that the new trust-busting job will go to Edward A. Foote, socialite politico, who happens to be chummy with Robert Learnard, Washington representative of the Aluminum Company of America.

There is no corporation which has been in more hot water with the antitrust division over monopoly than the Aluminum Company.

Two Rooseveltians

Two famous personalities of the Roosevelt administration, Congressman James Roosevelt and brain-truster Tommy Corcoran, had a backstage huddle last week at which they agreed to disagree. Their disagreement was over bananas.

"Tommy the Cork," who helped put across some of the foundation laws of the New Deal, is still a potent, though unobtrusive figure in Washington. Now a private attorney, he seems to get things done just as well under the Republicans as under the Democrats.

He called in Jimmie Roosevelt because Jimmie is planning to hold a Small Business Committee hearing on complaints by banana jobbers against the United Fruit Company. The jobbers contend that United Fruit fixes prices, monopolizes tropical fruit.

So Corcoran asked that Jimmie's hearings be in executive or closed-door session.

"If you have public hearings," Corcoran argued, "every newspaper in Latin America will carry headlines that United Fruit is the instrument of American imperialism."

"I'll be glad to inform the State Department that I'm holding the hearings," Roosevelt told his father's old friend. "But without a request from them on the basis that it will harm our Pan American relations, I'm not going to hold an executive session."

Note: The Justice Department some time ago brought an antitrust suit against United Fruit, now is considering dropping it with a consent decree. Roosevelt wants to find out whether the Justice Department has consulted the banana jobbers who have to do business with United Fruit before it considers its consent decree.

Washington Pipeline

Staff economists on the President's Council of Economic Advisers are worried that prices may become even more inflationary. OVERBROOK (Kan.) CITIZEN: Good Citizen. How many readers know what is meant by good citizenship?

This is a term used rather freely, and one most people would apply to themselves but which few can define. It doesn't mean just waving the flag on patriotic occasions, being a strong Republican or Democrat or being neither. The title can't be claimed just because one pays taxes, or votes, or buys federal bonds and cooperates with social security.

The local editor tried the test in his family with interesting results. We suggested that perhaps there are times when it is better not to be a "good" citizen, that the Germans who heiled Hitler were good citizens.

Under communism the good citizen is the one who blindly believes and obeys the changing word of the Kremlin.

Good has moral implication which fails to fit, everyone agreed, and citizenship simply consists of citizens being submissive to government whatever it might be.

The good citizen can only exist when there is good government, or by expressing defiance of bad government. What is good government, then? Thomas Jefferson said it: "He governs best who governs least."

Using Jefferson's definition, which everyone does without understanding, the least governing means that the individuals governed have the greatest possible latitude of individual freedom.

Good citizenship? Sure, it's simple when you see it. The good citizen is the one who lives and works for good government. Good government? Government is only good in ratio to its smallness.

The World Today—

Moysey's Raid Has a Lot of Angles to It

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald R. Moysey's raid on the Communists for back taxes has a lot of angles.

The Democrats and Republicans are a little embarrassed; the Justice Department is speechless; Moysey's bosses didn't seem to know what he was up to; calling the Communists a "political party" is like using a naughty word.

If there's general confusion about Moysey's operations it is because the Internal Revenue Service—he's its director for Lower Manhattan—has not yet issued a clear or full explanation of what he did and why.

He raided the Communist party's headquarters in New York and its newspaper, the Daily Worker, and seized its property for back taxes. He had directors in other cities make similar raids at the same time.

It's almost unbelievable all this could have been planned and carried out without the knowledge and approval of Moysey's boss, Revenue Commissioner Russell Harrington, and other government officials. But they did give the appearance of being completely surprised.

Moysey contends that the Communist party owes taxes and has never filed a return. The Communists argue they don't have to file a return, saying they make no profit and live off contributions.

A revenue service tax expert here says political parties, even though making no profit, must file a return. He did not say the Communists are a political party.

He explained that corporations, with or without profits, must file returns. Political parties have "all the attributes" of a corporation in that they are run by a chosen group of individuals for the benefit of the members, this man said.

Now it is learned the Democratic and Republican parties evidently have never filed returns. They argued yesterday that because they are political, living off contributions, they don't have to file.

There is a penalty for not filing: up to a year in jail and a fine of $10,000. Will the government prosecute the Republicans and Democrats? Hardly. Revenue agents have never asked to see their books.

As far as this writer knows no one in the government—in connection with the Moysey raids — has called the Communists a "political party." It may be an accident. But there would be a good reason for not doing so.

Under the corrupt practices law political parties which try to influence elections in more than one state must file with the House of Representatives a report on their income, where they get, how they spend it.

The Democrats and Republicans file these reports. House employes say they cannot recall ever having seen such a report from the Communists. It's hard to see how they could call themselves a political party and argue that they don't try to influence elections.

There's a penalty—a year in jail and a $1,000 fine—for not complying with this law. Why hasn't the Justice Department prosecuted the Communist party? The latest thing the Justice Department wants to admit is that the Communists are a "political" party.

It has pending in the Supreme Court a case in which it is trying to prove the party is not a bona fide American political party but a Russian agent.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mayor S. B. Kennon and a special committee of the city council practically agreed on ground north of the old brewery and west of Highway 65 as a city dumping ground. Its use was to be limited to tin cans, dirt and cinders. Garbage was to be burned in the city incinerator.

Transition to High School Ways Should Be Gradual

After one week as a seventh grader in a public junior high, a 12-year-old said to her mother: "Almost all the girls wear lipstick. And a lot of them wear earrings. And I've just got to learn to dance because we are going to have dances for our school parties this year."

Isn't it time we took a good, long look at our junior high schools, and the pressure they are putting on our children to jump the adults practically overnight?

Back in the days when schools were divided into eight years of grade school and four years of high school, the jump was made two years later.

Now with our 6-3-3 system our children jump from the sixth grade into a set-up that is in no way a continuation of what they have known, but an absurd copy of high school.

We've got junior high schools all over the country and we are stuck with the system. But why can't we, as parents, get together with the junior high faculty members in our own communities and try to make the change from elementary school to junior high a more gradual process?

It isn't wholesome to let our children be pushed into adult ways when they are actually only children. Nor is it a happy solution for a few parents to try to fight the problem alone.

The only way that we can see to it that our children are allowed to enjoy childhood as long as they should is to make up our minds that we parents have to get together, take a stand and ask our junior high principals and teachers to back us up.

As parents we ought to be able to meet our children's "but all the other kids do such-and-such" with "we parents have gotten together and decided . . ."

As Sedalia Sees It—

Campaign Against Stalin Gives Us No Reason to Rejoice

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The continuing campaign which the living leaders of Russia are conducting against the memory of the late Stalin gives us no reason to rejoice.

In fact, the implications are ominous. The effort to destroy Stalin's reputation suggests a rejection of at least some of his doctrines by the new rulers of Russia.

President Eisenhower alluded to this possibility at his last press conference when asked to comment on the anti-Stalinist campaign.

The President made the flattering assumption that most reporters present had read Stalin's "Problems of Lenninism." The collective leadership in the Kremlin now, the President noted, isn't following doctrines set forth in Stalin's time.

The President said it was therefore necessary for Stalin's successors to "repudiate something . . . and possibly they just go the whole way and repudiate the man as well as some of his doctrinal works."

The process of rejection and repudiation has been underway for sometime and, according to foremost authorities, has already made Russian foreign policy more flexible. This flexibility has made the Communist bloc more formidable than ever, according to our experts.

Stalin, although generally a most successful tyrant, seriously miscalculated more than once. There is little doubt, for example, that he could have choked the Marshall Plan at its inception.

It is only necessary to recall that United States invited Russia to participate in the Plan to realize what a chance Stalin missed. If Russia had said yes, Congress would have said no. Congress might have said no if one of the satellites came in. But none did.

It's unlikely that the new Kremlin leadership would miss such an opportunity.

It's also interesting to note that Stalin became the leading exponent of the theory that Communism could flourish in one country. For many years his primary concern was Russia itself. He was concerned with the communist conspiracy elsewhere, or so it had been argued, chiefly because control of the international communist movement affected the struggle for power in Russia.

This theory may have been modified before Stalin's death. It certainly must have been consigned to the junkheap since.

Following World War II, the frontiers of communism expanded. Eastern Europe fell to the Red Army, and the Reds won China. All this came about while Stalin lived. And but for his crudities, it is possible that the Reds could have accomplished more.

Russian diplomacy got its "new look" after Stalin died. It is distinctive in that it has caused us no end of trouble while costing Russia very little.

By opening its arsenals to Egypt, for example, Russia has thrown the Middle-East into turmoil. By offering—merely offering—to build a dam in Egypt, the Russians forced us to back the project. And our experts had held the project unsound.

Thinking It Over

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Many years ago today the crowds forsook Jesus. Even the disciples who had been His closest friends denied Him or ceased to speak in His behalf. He stood alone before a hostile court of worldly politicians.

Judas had sold his friendship for a few pieces of silver. James and John went to sleep when He needed their friendship.

Do you remember when you have been in trouble and when no one offered to help? Do you remember the "fair weather friends" who deserted you when you had nothing to give them? Do you remember how lonely you were when you were in the depths of despair?

If we could but share even a small portion of the agony of aloneness of Jesus on that Thursday of Holy Week, we would bow our heads today in deep humility. We would pray as we have never prayed before. We would never again forsake those who needed us.

Have we been "fair weather friends?" Have we enjoyed the success of others, and accused them of failure in their hours of need? Are we still "walking out" on Jesus when He needs us to help some poor human being?

Today is the most searching day of Lent.

THE STORY OF EGGBERT — An Easter Adventure — BY WALT SCOTT

WillAnnounce Fall Color ProgramSoon

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC, now making plans for its fall color television programing, soon will announce the most extensive color programs yet seen by the home audience.

It's expected that the network will offer at least one major attraction in color every evening of the week. Robert Sarnoff, NBC President, reportedly has given top priority to this phase of the network's television programing plans for the coming season.

Although color programing has increased considerably in the past year, plans in the making at NBC apparently would more than double the amount of color time now available to the public. One major attraction each evening on NBC probably would mean at least one hour and possibly an hour and a half nightly.

At the moment NBC is the only major network with plans for stepping up color productions. CBS, which presents a few color programs, is maintaining its policy of "watchful waiting." ABC, which offers no color programs, has said it might launch some in the fall of 1957 if the audience is large enough. Both NBC and CBS are affiliated with manufacturers of color sets. ABC is not.

You can look for a change of emphasis in the nature of color set advertising, by the way. Manufacturers are awakening to the fact that a large percentage of the public doesn't realize all black and white programs can be seen on color sets. The new theme in color probably will be that you get two sets for the price of one color set.

Actor's Son Given Stay on Traffic Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Edward G. Robinson, Jr. didn't have the $31 fine assessed for a traffic violation in Westwood and asked the Municipal Court for additional time to raise it. The son of the actor was given a stay until April 2 when he appeared in court yesterday with his lawyer. He was charged with running past a stop sign March 6.

At the end of 1955, the U. S. population was 166,740,000.

Automation Has Taken Over Growing Moonshine Industry

MOONSHINE STORE ON WHEELS was nabbed by Philadelphia police after search disclosed secret compartment behind rear seat. Bootleggers also used hopped-up cars to haul illegal liquor.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— "Automation" has taken over in the mushrooming moonshine industry.

More modern, labor - saving equipment than the big, legal distillers use is being found in some cases in illegal stills being raided at a record rate in the U.S.

Electronic devices and elaborate radio equipment are being used extensively to foil revenue officers.

Souped-up modern automobiles using the newest interstate superhighways and turnpikes are part of a nation-wide bootleg booze distribution system.

U.S. Treasury agents seized more than 11,000 illegal stills during the first nine months of 1955. That's equal to total seizures for 1954. Since the last three months are always the busiest in the moonshine trade, a Treasury spokesman points out, this means '55 will be a record year.

It's estimated that moonshining now robs federal and state treasuries of one billion dollars a year in taxes. Also, it is reported, between 20 and 25 per cent of all distilled spirits consumed in the U.S. are bootleg stuff.

This illegal competition is a serious blow to legal distillers. It has contributed to forcing the makers of Seagrams, Four Roses and Lord Calvert to divert part of their efforts into the oil business.

For the same reason the makers of Old Crow and Old Taylor whiskey are trying to bolster profits by producing chemicals from petroleum, and the distillers of Early Times and Old Forester by making photographic equipment.

A $10.50-a-gallon federal tax on liquor, which the moonshiners evade, is the big incentive. The "automation" is an extra pinch on legal distillers.

In New York State a huge still which used a fruit extract firm as a front was raided. After inspecting it an official of a legal distilling firm admitted "they had better equipment than some of ours."

Ingredients were fed into what appeared to be fruit extract machinery. However, an ingenious piping system ran most of the materials into a modern still built into a hidden section of the plant.

This still, staffed by a few men, was producing 2,500 gallons of moonshine per day.

Similar large "automated" stills have been raided all over the northeastern part of the U.S. Many of the small southern stills today also have the latest equipment, a Treasury man admits.

For a time Treasury agents had the jump on southern moonshiners by using airplanes to spot stills and coordinating raids with walkie-talkie and other radio gear.

Today moonshiners have their own radio equipment to warn of the approach of revenue agents and aircraft, and to monitor the radios of the government men.

It's reported that some moonshiners have even used surplus radar equipment to warn of still-spotting aircraft.

R. E. Joyce, vice president of National Distillers, reports:

"About 85 per cent of all southern moonshine is shipped to big cities and to the Northeast and Midwest. It is moved in specially-constructed passenger cars, with hot engines and heavy springs to move heavy loads fast. There are so many of them in use they must be altered on an assembly line basis."

William C. Bryant, Director of Liquor Control in Ohio, confirms this. "What used to be a trickle of illegal liquor coming into the state has now begun to take on the appearance of a stream," he reports.

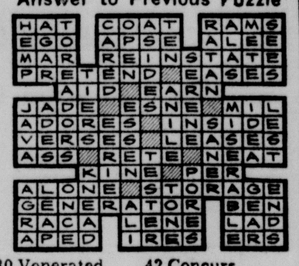

He also reveals that the illegal stills seized in Ohio about doubled in number and size during 1955. There are similar reports from the other states.

The legal liquor industry believes the solution is a reduction in taxes. State and federal enforcement officials say stiffer sentences for offenders and more agents would also help.

Fish vary in the number of their fins. There may be two pairs, or even three, on the lower half of the body and, in addition, there are single fins on the back and tail. Most fish have six, seven, or eight fins.
